Immediate Flood Danger Is Lessening in Edmonton

Plane Crash Kills 2 Edmonton Men

Two Edmonton men were fatally injured Sunday in the flaming wreck of their light aircraft at St. Paul, 125 miles northeast of here.

The dead are:

William Turko, 43, of 10910 95 street and Jack Barclay, 27, 11140 University avenue, manager of the Edmonton Flying Club

The tragic accident occurred at 7:50 p.m. when the Edmonton Flying Club two-piane Fleet cabin monoplane was taking off from a small field bordering the town.

NO ALTITUDE

The plane failed to gain more than a few feet of altitude crashing into the side of a CNR box car and exploding. The aircraft was immediately enveloped in fames.

Barclay and Turko were dragged clear of the blazing wreck by Alex and Bill Tannes who witnessed the takeoff.

Both occupants of the plane were severely burned and lacerated.

The victims were rushed to St. Theresa Hospital in St. Paul where at first it was believed they had a good chance of surviving.

Soon after midnight the condition of the pair became worse and although blood plasma was given at frequent intervals, Turko died at 12:40 a.m. Monday. Barclay died at 7:40 a.m.

TURKO PILOT

Turko is believed to have been the pilot when the crash occurred although the plane has dual controls.

Department of Transport officials are conducting an investigation into the cause of the accident.

The victims had flown to St. Paul from Edmonton early Sunday afternoon for a meeting with local aviation enthusiasts interested in forming a flying club. They had shown films on the theory of flight to the group and were leaving for Edmonton when tragedy struck.

Paul Drolet of St. Paul, with Mrs. Drolet and the Tannes brothers, witnessed the crash.

EYEWITNESS ACCOUNT

Drolet furnished The Edmonton Bulletin with the following eyewitness account:

"The plane started to take off in a north to south direction. It gained a few feet of altitude but struck the top of the railway fence. It passed just beneath the telegraph wires close to the railway track and then struck the side of a railway box car with terrific force.

"There was an explosion and then the plane burst into flames.

"I ran to my car to get a fire extinguisher and the Tannes brothers rushed toward the burning plane.

"When I saw the plane had missed the telegraph wires I knew it would strike the box car.

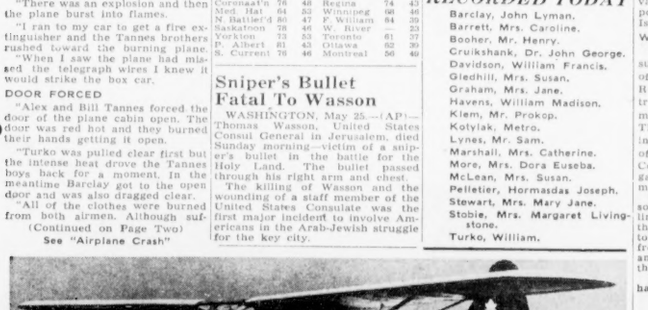

DOOR FORCED

"Alex and Bill Tannes forced the door of the plane cabin open. The door was red hot and they burned their hands getting it open.

"Turko was pulled clear first but the intense heat drove the Tannes boys back for a moment. In the meantime Barclay got to the open door and was also dragged clear.

"All of the clothes were burned from both airmen. Although suf-

Sniper's Bullet Fatal To Wasson

WASHINGTON, May 25.—(AP)—Thomas Wasson, United States Consul General in Jerusalem, died Sunday morning—victim of a sniper's bullet in the battle for the Holy Land. The bullet passed through his right arm and chest.

The killing of Wasson and the wounding of a staff member of the United States Consulate was the first major incident to involve Americans in the Arab-Jewish struggle for the key city.

Thousands Enjoy Fine Empire Day

Holiday Marred Only By Tragic Plane Accident

Thousands of Edmontonians are still trekking back to their homes and offices today, winding up one of the finest Empire Day week-ends in many years.

The holiday was marred only by the tragic plane crash which took the lives of two well-known Edmonton aviation men, Jack Barclay and Bill Turco, who died in St. Paul hospital after their light cabin cruiser crashed after takeoff.

THOUSANDS LEAVE CITY

An estimated 20,000 Edmontonians left the city at the weekend to crowd every available resort spot for miles.

Those who remained in the city crowded baseball parks, swimming pools, playgrounds and the many other attractions offered.

In Edmonton, an estimated 8,500 jammed Renfrew ball park for two games Sunday and Monday.

More than 1,000 fans filled Clarke Stadium Sunday for a double-header baseball program which opened the city Junior league.

Another 600 cheered lustily as the city soccer league opened activities in Clarke stadium.

More than 10,000 stormed the Exhibition grounds to watch the Lions Club annual Model T races on Monday.

PLAYGROUNDS OPENING

Official opening of the city's 15 playgrounds drew thousands of kiddies and parents, while the swimming pools drew several thousands over Sunday and Monday.

Golf enthusiasts jammed every available course in Edmonton and surrounding districts with several pairs and quartets having to wait in line to tee off.

The holiday week-end was one of the best ever experienced with traffic accidents in the district being at a minimum and crime confined to two attempted robberies and a few minor occurrences.

Police reported wonderful cooperation from everyone over the week-end in many years.

"Sold-out" signs were common throughout the city Monday as unprecedented demands for cokes and ice cream caught several dealers napping.

Bus, railway and airline officials reported record crowds travelling to and from the city from Saturday noon on.

Whitemud, Cooking Lake, Alberta Beach, Ma-Me-O Beach, Jasper and Banff all drew large crowds of city folk.

Many race enthusiasts spent the holiday at Calgary's Victoria Park track, with more than a few reporting success.

All in all, it was a great day for it!

German Woman Pilot Is Arrested

FRANKFURT, May 25.—(AP)—Hanna Reitsch, Germany's most famous woman airplane pilot, has been arrested while trying to cross illegally from Germany into Austria, public Hamburg reported Sunday. The 36-year-old blonde, who once made a test flight in a V-1 bomb, reputedly was one of the last persons to see Hitler alive.

He Figures He's "Lucky"

QUICK ACTION of a falling derrick roughneck Saturday saved him from possible fatal injuries. Resting in University hospital after falling more than 35 feet off the oil well derrick, Wilfred Kotow, Calmar, thinks he is "luckier than most." Shouts of 22-year-old roughneck also saved possible serious injuries to a fellow worker who was busy directly below Kotow.

CALMAR MAN BADLY INJURED

Paratroop Experience Aids Oil Worker in Fall

Experience as a paratrooper during the war probably saved the life of a 22-year-old derrick "roughneck" Saturday.

Wilfred Kotow, Calmar, is in University hospital suffering from two broken ankles, spinal injuries and rope burns, as the result of falling more than 35 feet off a derrick.

He was working on the south offset to the rampaging Atlantic No. 3 well in the Leduc oil field.

Kotow, who had been working on the top of the derrick, was coming down the structure when he lost his footing and fell.

"I tried to hang on to the rope, but it was a new one and it burnt my hands and legs," he said.

"I landed on the platform on my heels, but if I had had more time to think, I could have landed on my toes. I probably wouldn't have hurt myself so badly.

"I'm luckier than most, though," the derrick worker said, as he laid in his hospital bed with both legs suspended from pulleys.

Valuable experience gained as a paratrooper, which taught him how to fall and roll to avoid injury, stood the workman in good stead. After hitting the platform, Kotow was able to roll slightly avoiding more serious injury to his legs and back.

The accident occurred about 5 p.m. Saturday, "about 15 minutes before quitting time," Kotow said.

Kotow's quick-thinking also saved possible serious injuries to a fellow worker who was working on the platform below.

Kotow shouted as he started to fall and the other derrick worker was able to get clear of the falling man.

Kotow has been "roughnecking" for about three years.

He worked on wildcat wells before moving to Calmar about a year ago.

He spent about two and one half years in the paratroops.

Arabs Under Pressure To Agree to Truce

By William B. Dickinson
British United Press Correspondent

Arab leaders met today at Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, to talk about closing out the war in Palestine, which after 10 days of fighting had approached a stalemate.

Sporadic warfare between Jews and Arabs still raged in Jerusalem and there were occasional clashes at other points, but Arab hopes for even a quick capture of the Holy City had waned almost to the vanishing point. The important portion of the new Jewish State of Israel hardly had been touched.

WON EXTENSION

The Arabs were under heavy pressure from the three great powers of the world, the United States, Russia and Britain, to agree to a truce during which a peace agreement could be sought by mediation. They had won a 48-hour extension in the deadline set for acceptance of the United Nations Security Council's cease-fire demand. That gave them until 1 p.m. EDT tomorrow to reply.

First reaction in pro-Jewish sources to the extension of the time limit had been that the action gave the Arabs 48 hours more in which to seek to take Jerusalem. Reports from the Holy City, and from Arab and Jewish capitals did not bear this out.

There were no signs that Arabs had sought to increase greatly the

WEDDING OFF; YOUNG GIRL GOES TO JAIL

Dreams of a spring wedding were shattered for a 19-year-old girl who appeared in city court Tuesday.

Sentenced to two months imprisonment, Thelma C. Rear, Calgary, wept in the prisoners dock—she was to have been married this coming Friday.

The neatly dressed and well-appearing blonde pleaded guilty to charges of uttering a forged cheque for $100 and theft of $15 from the purse of one of her fellow employes.

Recently the woman had been dealt with leniently in court when she was fined $10 on another theft charge.

Police recovered $120 of the money.

On the uttering charge she was sentenced to two months imprisonment. One month was given for the theft, the terms are to be concurrent.

Canadian Financier, Richard Cronyn Dies

LONDON, Ont., May 25.—(CP)—Richard Hume Cronyn, 54, vice-president of the Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation, died suddenly during the week-end from a heart condition.

He also held the position of director of the Canadian Trust Company, London and of John Labatt, Ltd.

He was a brother of Hume Cronyn, well-known stage and screen actor. Survivors include his widow, one son, Hume, of Leduc, Alta., and a daughter.

PALERMO, Sicily, May 25.—(UP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano, former New York vice overlord, was arrested by Italian police several days ago and still is held "for questioning," authoritative sources reported tonight.

Water Up-River Is Now Receding

Although Edmonton was still "alerted" to the flood danger Tuesday afternoon, the immediate outlook was less serious than at first believed.

Flooding of some basements in homes close to the Saskatchewan river was believed the worst that would happen at the crest of the present flood wave early Wednesday morning.

"According to reports we received from Rocky Mountain House this morning the river has dropped 1.3 feet since yesterday," City Engineer A. W. Haddow said shortly before press time today.

"We do not look for a greater rise than four or five feet above the high mark of 7 a.m. this morning which was 69.3 feet," he added.

This would place the water level above bottom at the deepest part of the river at about 75 feet.

In June of 1944 the high mark was 80 feet.

Mr. Haddow added a warning note, however, when he said:

"The North Saskatchewan can flood at any time from May to August depending on the amounts and rates speed of melting of mountain snows."

The great flood of June, 1915 occurred on June 17, 18 and 19.

Potential Increased

Flood potential of the North Saskatchewan and other rivers in the watershed east of the Rocky Mountains has been greatly increased this year by well above average snowfalls and lateness of spring thaws, O. H. Hoover, district chief engineer for the Dominion Water Power Bureau stated after a survey early in May that heavy rains and protracted warm weather could produce a flood very quickly this year.

The flood potential is common to all Alberta rivers with sources on the eastern slopes of the Rockies.

Acting Mayor Ald. Sidney Parsons moved swiftly to set in motion pre-arranged plans to deal with a possible flood.

City Engineer's department men patrolled the river banks throughout the night and residents were warned where danger threatened most.

Two or three families moved from their homes.

The Edmonton naval barracks at HMCS Nonsuch became flood headquarters and the Red Cross made preparations to care for flood victims.

Mrs. L. F. Trahan, president of Riverdale Community League said that preparations for a possible flood have been completed with the Red Cross, Civic Relief Department and the Federation of Community Leagues participating.

Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning telephone lines connecting Edmonton with Rocky Mountain House, near the source of the Saskatchewan river, went out.

The operator at Red Deer said she believed flood conditions responsible for the line failure.

Evacuation Plans Made

In the meantime the city has mobilized a fleet of trucks in case quick evacuation of families in the flats districts is necessary.

It was pointed out there is danger of Rossdale, Riverdale and Gallagher flats communities being flooded.

Officials of the City Engineer's department headed by City Engineer Haddow toured the flats area Monday night.

W. Gillmour of 9511 100 street, was the first to move out.

Gillmour, a street railway motorman, was flooded out in 1944. He moved his household furniture to the naval barracks. Lt.-Cmdr. Rodney Pike of HMCS Nonsuch and S/L T. W. O'Brien of Northwest Air Command, RCAF, are providing space for furniture and living quarters for possible flood victims.

Many residents of the flats have made arrangements to move on a moment's notice.

Frank Drayton of the city relief department is in direct charge of evacuation of those who may be forced to move.

Not An Ark, Noah's Or Otherwise For Flats

Flood or no flood, nobody's building any Noah's ark.

As the North Saskatchewan River rises, bringing the possibility of flooded homes, Edmontonians living on the river flats aren't particularly worried.

Tuesday morning, The Bulletin interviewed residents in the danger-point area.

This area, along 100th street in the 9500 avenue block, will be the first place on the flats to be flooded if river waters continue to rise.

SOME READY TO MOVE

A few families have made preparations to move out of their homes "just in case." Most have moved belongings out of flood-threatened basements to upper storeys of their homes.

One family, that of W. Gillmour, has moved its furniture to HMCS Nonsuch barracks.

The Gillmour family occupies a basement suite at 9511 100 street, one of the lowest spots in the block. The Gillmours have moved out because rising waters would probably invade their suite before other homes in the area.

R. J. Hoefling, who occupies the top floor of the same house, is "not worried." He told The Bulletin that the house was surrounded on three sides by water in the 1944 flood.

"The water will have to come up 10 feet, at least, to surround the house," he said. "I don't think it will rise that much, and I'm not planning to move, but I am getting ready in case something does happen."

"Twelve feet of water here won't pull us out," he stated.

Probably the most worried residents in the flood-threatened area are Mr. and Mrs. William MacOwan, an aged couple residing at 9903 100 street.

In 1944 their stone home was filled with several feet of water.

"We're worried because we're not just sure how much the water will rise," said Mrs. MacOwan.

"We will wait until we have to move."

The MacOwans live on the lowest lot in their block.

NEIGHBORS TO HELP

Neighbors told The Bulletin they are standing by to assist the old couple in moving if their home is threatened.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Steele live across the street from the Mac-

Judge Suggests Dr. Whitton Return to Prove Charges

Suggestion that Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Ottawa welfare expert, should return to Edmonton and substantiate allegations she has made, was voiced today before the Royal Commission investigating child welfare conditions in Alberta.

The suggestion was made by Chief Justice W. R. Howson, head of the Royal Commission, who also said that she should come at her own expense.

Dr. Whitton prepared a report of child welfare operations for the Alberta chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

S. Bruce Smith, counsel for the provincial government, challenged allegations in the Whitton report. He said the statements insinuated that more than 10 per cent of Alberta adoptions went to the United States, that "callousness" had been shown in child welfare administration and that welfare officials had shown "lack of knowledge, vocational ineptitude and lack of good faith in their work."

"Well," Chief Justice Howson commented, "if these statements were untrue and if they cannot be substantiated by evidence, then it seems to me that Miss Whitton ought to come back here and produce evidence because some of these statements are thoroughly insulting to the province of Alberta and to the people of Alberta."

HERE FOR WEEKS

Mr. Smith then stated that Dr. Whitton was in Edmonton "for weeks and weeks" without supporting the points.

"All right, then," the commission chairman said, "she can come back at her own expense. I cannot see why any person should be allowed to come from another part of Canada or even another part of the world and question the people of this province or a department of the government of this province."

Boy Loses Life In North Fork River

Flood Waters on Prairies On Rampage over Holiday

Flood waters over the prairies went on the rampage again during the long holiday week-end, claiming one life and covering thousands of acres of more farmland.

George Dennis, son of Percy Dennis, a cattle buyer in the Blairmore, Alberta, district, was swept away when he tried to cross the North Fork river in the Crow's Nest Pass district.

The 16-year-old youth was accompanied by his brother, who managed to pull himself to safety. They had taken some cattle across the river Saturday and were returning to their home when the accident occurred.

HARDEST HIT AREA

The Crow's Nest Pass district was hardest hit in Alberta. Rising waters washed out several bridges Sunday, but the situation was reported "improved" today.

The Elbow river rose seven feet in the Bragg Creek district, about 20 miles west of Calgary, flooding a number of low-lying summer cabins. Washouts of roads in the district were also reported.

A late spring run-off, coupled with heavy rains in the mountains are causing the new floods.

In Calgary, both the Bow and Elbow rivers rose six feet up to early this morning, but city officials there said there was no immediate flood danger for that city.

THREE WASHOUTS

Melting snows also washed out three sections of the Canadian Pacific Railway main line east of Canmore. Water also covered a section of the Banff-Calgary highway.

In N orthern Alberta's Rossington and Manola districts, the Pembina river began a new rise, but no new danger is expected. It had gone down to its normal level from early spring floods, but Monday rose five inches.

Meanwhile, new flood waters of three rivers today are wreaking their fury on an estimated 100,000 acres of land southwest of The Pas, in Manitoba.

The Pas, Saskatchewan and Carrot rivers have overflowed and linked a tremendous expanse of water. Large freighter canoes are providing farmers on land still above the flood level with food, mail and messages. About 200 farms in the district are flooded.

B.C. CHILD DROWNS

British Columbia is also feeling effects of floods.

At Grand Forks, four-year-old Nick Zebin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zebin was drowned Monday in the waters of the Fourth of July creek. His body was found almost under his own home, where angry waters had swept it.

In Kimberley, about a dozen houses were dynamited today to prevent them from being swept away by the swollen Maple Creek.

Maple Creek, which also flows through Kimberley, is going on an independent rampage. It has surrounded 15 houses and is threatening to undermine the Canadian Pacific Railway roadbed.

At Natal, B.C., families fled their homes in night attire early today as Michel Creek swept the town.

In the northwest United States, three men and a four-year-old boy are missing as swollen rivers in Montana, Washington and Oregon continue to pour over their banks.

Owsans and Hoeflings. That side of the street is about six feet higher in elevation.

"I got in a proper dither in 1944," said Mrs. Steele. "I'm not getting into one this time."

"If the water gets to our doorstep, then I'll get the jitters," she laughed when questioned on 'the end of the line.' Until then, she and her husband are not planning to move.

Said Mrs. W. E. Campbell, 9517 100 street: "I didn't think anything of the situation until everybody else started talking about it." Her basement was flooded in 1944, but the last her husband didn't move out of her home.

CONCERN FOR GARDEN

Mrs. Campbell seemed to be more concerned about her riverbank garden, which is all dug, than the necessity for evacuating her home.

Mrs. H. L. Jones, 9535 100 street, said: "I'm not worried a bit about the floods. Oh, well, if they do come I suppose we'll have to move." Mrs. Jones was too busy baking bread when The Bulletin called to bother about flood worries.

Said Mrs. R. D. Whetstone, 9547 100 street: "No, I'm not worried No one else around here seems to be worried either."

Two veterans of the floods are Jim Kinsman, 9605 100 street, and W. Krauel, 9544 100 street.

They were both living on the flats during the great flood of 1915, and also during the 1944 flood.

Neither one thinks the river waters will rise as high as in 1944.

"EVERYONE'S PREPARED"

Mr. Kinsman told The Bulletin, "Everyone's prepared, but otherwise there's nothing."

Mr. Krauel was more optimistic still.

He has been keeping track of the rising river, but spent the week-end working on his river-bank garden.

And he isn't worried about his garden.

CUTIES — By E. Simms Campbell

Plane Crash Kills Two Edmonton Men

fering terribly the victims were able to speak.

"In the meantime I was playing the extinguisher on the burning plane. The fire department soon arrived and gained control over the flames. The box car had been ignited in the crash, too."

The Drolets and the Tannes had driven Turko and Barclay to their plane.

Barclay's wife, father and mother and sister reached the bedside of their son before he died.

WAR VETERAN

A veteran of the Second World War, Barclay served with distinction in the famed City of Edmonton Squadron overseas.

He became manager of the Edmonton Flying Club about one year ago.

Turko was termed by Flying Club officials "A qualified pilot." He has been flying for over a year.

Proprietor of the Alberta Studio Photographers, he is survived by his wife and three children.

BLOOD PLASMA SENT

Edmonton Flying Club directors had blood plasma rushed to St. Paul by taxi soon after receiving word of the crash.

Monday club directors flew to the scene of the wreck in planes piloted by Tommy Fox of Associated Airways and Don McLaughlin of the Edmonton Flying Club.

After a thorough examination of the wreck, club officials stated there was "nothing to indicate mechanical failure" and "the pilot was not stunting" when the crash occurred.

Cause of the accident was termed a "mystery."

It was also stated all controls of the aircraft had been checked and tested before leaving Edmonton.

Bodies of the victims were brought to Edmonton Monday.

ACTIVE IN CITY

The two men had been active in Edmonton flying and business circles for many years.

Barclay had been a Flight Lieutenant in the RCAF during the Second World War.

In 1946 he was commended by the King for his services.

He was made president of the Edmonton Flying Club on its reorganization in November last year.

He joined the RCAF in 1940 and instructed in this country for three years before going overseas to join the City of Edmonton Squadron.

He is survived by his wife and two children who live at 9012 96 street, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barclay of 11140 University Avenue.

Mr. Turko had been engaged in business activities since he came to Edmonton from Saskatchewan 20 years ago.

He was a qualified pilot and radio operator and joined the flying club a year ago.

He is survived by his wife and three children at 10910 95 street.

Forest Fires Rage Man.-Ont. Border

WINNIPEG, May 25. — (CP) — Widespread forest fires are raging today in Manitoba's mining country and along the Ontario border. At Fisherton, Man., wher the largest fire is being fought, all businesses and institutions were shut, while the inhabitants turned out to bring the fire under control.

Fire-fighting crews rushed by plane are still fighting the blaze which has spread through an area five miles long and about one mile wide at Wallace Lake, near Bisset, Man. The fire was started about a week ago by a prospector who left his camp fire burning.

A series of fires along the Manitoba-Ontario boundary, started last week by two dry electrical storms, have not reached large proportions in Manitoba.

In the Interlake area, the provincial forestry protection service reported a number of small fires were still burning, several near the Pequis Indian reserve.

Historic Log Book

LONDON, May 25.—(Reuters)—A log book kept by Charles Darwin, the anthropologist, on a voyage of scientific discovery to South America between 1834 and 1836 was sold at a leading London sales room yesterday for $1,080.

Two Saskatoon Boys Drown In Slough

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Johnny Fatowsky, 12, and Marvin Agar, nine, Saskatoon boys, were drowned Saturday afternoon in a slough within the city limits in which they were swimming. They fell off a raft which they were propelling, into about seven feet of water. The bodies were recovered by mounted police.

Manitoba and Calgary Horses Major Winners

Manitoba and Calgary owned horses won most of the major awards at the final sessions of the Edmonton Exhibition Association's light horse show which concluded Saturday.

Saturday afternoon thousands of children flocked to the arena to witness the judging in the children's events. At night an estimated 4,000 horse lovers saw Bouncing Buster, owned by the Lilla Gord Stable, Brandon, recapture the jumping title of the show. He won the inaugural sweepstake in 1946, but did not defend his title last year.

Ridden by Gordon Williamson, owner of the stable, Buster captured the Kinsmen Challenge Trophy with a perfect score over 12 jumps. Gay Lad, owned by H. L. Phillips, Calgary, and ridden by Audrey Gardner, was second, one scant point behind the winner.

Misty Morn from the Victor Sifton stable, Winnipeg, won the heavyweight hunter class, and later was judged the champion hunter of the show. The Witch, from the same stable, was given the reserve championship ribbon.

Gloria Klaver, Calgary, won the championship in the glamor class from Mrs. William Herron, also of Calgary.

SASKATCHEWAN WIN

The musical chairs final competition was taken by George Clagett, Carrot River, Sask., with William Herron, Jr., placing second.

Lynda Shuman, owned by T. L. Brady, Calgary, was a dual winner. This mare took the riding horse stake from Dr. W. S. Armstrong's Beverly Pauline, and also won the combination saddle and harness horse class.

Burns and Sons, Pickardville, won the four-in-hand competition. Driver in this class was Bobbie Burns.

Wil-O-Wisp from Briercrest Stables, Edmonton, won the mare or gelding class over 14 hands but not exceeding 15 hands, and this stable also won the children's turnout class.

Other winners in the children's section were: Glamour class, William Herron, Calgary; saddle pony not exceeding 11.2 hands, Briercrest Stables; saddle pony 11.2 hands but not exceeding 13.1 hands, Max Cristall's Beauty; children's saddle pairs, Fay Inglis and Joan; saddle pony classes exceeding 13.1 but not exceeding 14.2 hands was won by Hi Ya, owned by Joy Patterson, Calgary. The same exhibitor took the single harness class with this pony.

Results of the boy and girl riders classes were: Five to seven years inclusive, Doreen Cross, Calgary; girl rider, eight to 11 inclusive, Jean Armstrong, Edmonton; girl rider, 12 to 15 inclusive, Mary Martin, Edmonton; boy rider, 8 to 11, Donald Sprague, Edmonton; boy rider, 12 to 15, Ron Ritchie, Edmonton.

The rural school pony class was won by Linda Hood, Montgomery school, and the junior jumping class by Barbara Marsden, Edmonton.

SUB-STRUCTURE BRIDGECONTRACT BEFORE COUNCIL

Contract for the construction of the sub-structure of the Low Level bridge second traffic lane will be awarded by city council tonight.

City commissioners recommend the acceptance of a bid made by Poole Construction Co., Edmonton.

This bid is on a cost-plus basis with a fixed fee of $18,000.

R. A. Blythe Co., Toronto, submitted a bid of $215,869.50, but the company does not bind itself to the date specified for completion of the work.

The completion date, according to city engineer A. W. Haddow is very important as it governs the erection of the steel.

Delay in date of construction of the sub-structure would probably delay the opening of the structure for traffic for another year.

Save Children Aid Extension

Plans for extension of organized aid for children in Europe are under way across Canada, according to H. J. Sweetman, Toronto, who visited Edmonton over the week end.

Executive-secretary of the permanent Canadian Save-the-Children Fund, Mr. Sweetman is touring Western Canada to help extend local aid organizations.

With the cooperation of the Elks, sponsors of the Fund, attempts will be made to form committees of prominent citizens to further relief work, explained Mr. Sweetman.

"Very favorable interest and support has been shown by prominent citizens across Canada," he stated.

More than $50,000 in clothing and food was sent to European children in 1947 by the Fund, said Mr. Sweetman.

Nearly 30 tons of used clothing were sent in 1947 and 10 tons have been sent in 1948, he stated.

Staff of the Fund worked with the Kinsmen Club of Edmonton Children drive this spring, he explained.

Organized as a committee following World War One in 1922, the Save-the-Children Fund has its permanent offices and depot in Toronto.

Shipments of food and clothing are sent to depots in England and Sweden, where they are distributed to needy European countries.

Govt. Asked to Okay Arms Export to Israel

Canadian government has been asked to permit export of arms to the new state of Israel, and deny arms shipment to the Arab states.

This request was made in the form of a resolution by delegates attending the first North West Canadian Council of B'Nai Brith Lodges held here at the week-end.

About 30 delegates from major Alberta and Saskatchewan centres attended the convention held in the Macdonald hotel.

Request was part of a resolution passed at the convention, and will be forwarded to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Minister of External Affairs St. Laurent, and leader of opposition parties in the House of Commons.

Here is the resolution in full: "The North West Canadian Council of B'nai Brith lodges meeting in annual meeting at Edmonton, unanimously resolves:

"That the Government of Canada, having taken a leading part in the deliberations of the United Nations, which resulted in the decision to partition Palestine into Jewish and Arab States and to provide for International control for Jerusalem, be now requested to:

"(a) Give immediate legal recognition to the state of Israel that has been proclaimed in pursuance of that decision;

AID FOR ISRAEL

"(b) Use its influence as a member of the Security Council of the United Nations to protect the Holy City of Jerusalem and its sacred shrines, and to put an end to the war in Palestine;

"(c) Aid the State of Israel in its fight to uphold the decision of the United Nations by permitting the export of arms to Israel and by the denial of arms to the Arab States, and by using its influence with other member nations of the United Nations, and particularly Great Britain, to do likewise;

"(d) Re-establish confidence in the United Nations by seeing to it that the Arab States who have openly defied the authority of that august body be called account therewith.

"And that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Prime Minister of Canada, the Minister of External Affairs, and to the leaders of the opposition parties in the Canadian House of Commons."

Main theme of the B'nai Brith conference was the discussion of the position which B'nai Brith takes in the Jewish community and the community as a whole.

Delegates also appealed "to our own Christian neighbors to urge the Government of Canada to use its influence as a member of the United Nations to uphold the authority of that body, protect the Holy City of Jerusalem with its sacred shrines, and put an end to the war in Palestine which endangers world peace."

Officers elected to the executive of the North West Council included: W. Margolus, Edmonton, president; J. Backun, Moose Jaw; C. Horowitz, Calgary; E. Bricker, Saskatoon; M. D. Brownstein, Regina, vice-presidents.

E. Lyons, Edmonton, secretary-treasurer; H. Crystal, Calgary, general committee manager.

Louis H. Harrison, president of district Grand Lodge number 6, was guest speaker at the convention.

WARRIOR CADETS ARE VICTORIOUS AT SPORTS FEST

Cadets of HMCS Warrior lived up to their ship's name in a series of sport competitions with cadets of Calgary's HMCS Undaunted over the week-end.

The Edmonton cadets, under command of Lieutenant R. G. Gordon, defeated the Calgary boys 48-12 in basketball and 12-4 in softball.

In addition, they crushed the southern sea-youths in badmington and boxing tourneys.

Cadets of Warrior visited Red Deer Friday and stopped over in Calgary before their return home Sunday.

While in Calgary, the cadets attended a church parade with their Calgary hosts and were guests at luncheons Saturday and Sunday and a dinner Saturday night.

Disease Cases Show Increase

A total of 96 cases of communicable disease was reported to the city health department during the week ended May 21 compared with 91 the previous week.

Chickenpox cases increased from 10 to 15; erysipelas from one to two; measles cases 57, the same as the previous week; mumps and rubella each showed a decrease of one, while whooping cough increase from 13 to 14.

Cross At Coast

Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and public welfare is on the Pacific coast on his annual holiday it was learned today. He is not expected to return to his legislative duties until June 2 or 3.

Safe-Cracking Was Major Crime

Police Say Week-End Was Otherwise Generally Quiet

Police reported a "fairly quiet" week-end today.

One safe-cracking, an attempted safe-cracking, and one break-in and theft made up only major crime attempts over the week-end.

Twenty-one people were arrested by police during the week-end on charges varying from drunkenness to possessing burglar tools.

Highlands Safeway store fell victim to safecrackers early Sunday morning.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to open the safe at Crane's Limited, Saturday night.

Thieves who broke into Canadian Army Engineers office at 105 street and Kingsway, netted $31 in cash.

Police say entry was gained by forcing an east door in the building.

Desks and cupboards in the office were ransacked.

Room prowlers obtained one wallet and contents amounting to $35 at the YMCA Sunday night.

Archibald Brumfit, a resident at the YMCA, told police the wallet had been taken from his room Sunday night.

Door to his room was not locked, he stated.

Fire department officials said 12 calls were answered over the week-end.

Most calls were rubbish or grass fires.

Largest fire was dealt with Monday when a smoldering rocket set fire to bush on Grierson Hill.

No serious damage was reported from the fires.

Food Battle Ends in Court

A battle over pork chops Saturday resulted in three men appearing in police court today.

They were charged with causing a disturbance in a 97 street cafe.

Charges against Yen Chin, 10312 97 street, were withdrawn.

"He was merely defending his pork chops," explained Crown Prosecutor Donald Masson.

Two participants in the fracas over food, Fred Moyan 10259 97 street and Norman Pritchard Clover Bar, were each fined $25 and costs or one month in jail.

Employe Has Narrow Escape

James Murray, employe in the Royal Alexandra Hospital power plant, had a narrow escape from death Saturday when the boiler he was lighting exploded.

The boiler suffered damage estimated between $10,000 and $12,000.

Murray was unhurt in the explosion.

Electric services to the hospital were not interrupted by the explosion as auxiliary boilers were available.

The accident was attributed to gas accumulation in the boiler when Murray opened the feed-valve too wide when lighting the boiler.

It's Circus Day For Kiddies

The Circus is in town!

Edmonton streets will ring Wednesday with the favorite cry of children throughout the continent.

The Shrine Circus, jointly sponsored by the Shrine and Rotary clubs of Edmonton will open in the Arena Wednesday.

Cast of the circus, complete with animals and spangles, drums and trapezes, arrived in Edmonton today.

It will be a day for children of any age.

Elephants and lions, monkeys and tigers will perform under the guidance of their patient and skilled trainers.

Trapeze and high-wire artists will defy death in breath-taking antics, high above the heads of the crowd.

Beautiful girls, spangled and bejewelled, straight from the story books, will display their graceful agility on the backs of trained animals in the true tradition of the sawdust ring.

Tickets for seats, all reserved, are on sale at Mike's newsstand.

Head Cuts, Bruises Follow Accident

One man was taken to hospital with head cuts and bruises when he was struck by the path of a truck Monday.

Conrad Brekke, 10014 109 street, was said to have stepped from a curb at 109 street and Jasper into a truck being driven by John H. Congdon, 11347 94 street.

Brekke was taken to Misericordia hospital. His condition was described as "not serious."

CAN'T MOVE US BACHELORS SAY

There's no place like home! This is the attitude of three bachelors living at the extreme end of Gallagher flats, bang up against the river.

Monday officials of the city engineer's department asked the men to move from their shacks because of flood danger.

They refused to move, telling the officials if the flood came up to their dwellings they would move to higher ground and set up camp.

The officials left it at that.

The men are still in their shacks, the river is still some distance from them.

And it is possible now that the river will not rise sufficiently to flood them out.

Librarians Meet Here

Librarians from Central and Northern Alberta are attending a short course at the University of Alberta.

Delegates registered today for the course, which will continue until May 28.

Course is being given by the University department of extension in conjunction with the Alberta Library Association.

Purpose of the course is to assist those carrying on library work in small libraries in Alberta on a volunteer basis.

Included in the course will be lectures on general library technique, reference work, and book selection.

This year the course is open to librarians from communities north of Calgary.

Next year the course will be held for librarians from Southern Alberta.

Today and Wednesday the students will be guests of the Alberta Library Association at its annual conference at the University. About 75 delegates are expected to attend the convention.

Instructors giving the course include: Miss Marjorie Sherlock, University librarian; Misses Margaret Auxier, Ada Anderson, Grace MacDonald, of the Edmonton Public Library; Miss Flora Macleod, of the University extension department library. Miss Macleod is in charge of the course.

Correspondence On Babies Asked

OTTAWA, May 25.—(CP)—The Commons yesterday adopted a private member's motion requesting the production of federal correspondence concerning the export of babies to foreign countries.

The motion, moved by Max Campbell (CCF-the Battlefords) asked production of "all correspondence exchanged between any individual or group or provincial government and any minister," department or official of the federal government, during the past two years, having to do with the export of babies to foreign countries."

State Secretary Gibson said he had no objection to the motion provided it was understood that the government first must obtain the consent of the provinces concerned before tabling the correspondence.

Campbell also placed on the order paper a question asking:

"1. Have any babies been exported from Canada during the past five years to foreign countries for adoption there?

"2. If so, how many (by provinces), (a) male; (b) female, and on whose recommendations and to what countries?

"3. Were exit permits issued and by what department?

"4. What supervision is there over babies that have been exported?"

The question will be answered at a later date.

Compulsory Training Is Urged By Veterans

Compulsory military training in Canada was called for Saturday at the provincial convention of the Army, navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada.

The resolution urging the federal government to call up Canada's young men, was passed unanimously by the 25 delegates attending the two-day convention, May 23-24, at Edmonton.

Of the 15 resolutions passed, the more important urged the Dominion Government to: legalize sweepstakes; allow veterans' organizations to handle allocation of Wartime Houses; reduce cost of hospitalization for veterans not receiving benefits, from $9 per day to $4 per day; grant free medical surgical, dental and optical treatment to all war widows and their children; to make the Army Benevolent Fund more accessible to the needy veteran.

The convention opened at 9 Sunday morning at the Churchill Building with the traditional two-minute silence for fallen comrades.

Provincial Padre Canon Clough gave the invocation.

Welcoming address to the delegates was made by Acting Mayor Sid Parsons.

UNITED FRONT

In his report, Provincial president R. H. Scott of Calgary stressed the power of a united front for veterans, in Canada.

Major portion of the convention's business was completed Sunday night.

After the election and installation of new officers on Monday morning, the delegates adjourned to lunch at the Club Roosevelt.

LUNCHEON GUESTS

Special guests at the luncheon were Hon. Mayor Sidney Parsons, Gibson Scott of the Canadian Legion, Ted Brown and Cecil Rutherford, honorary provincial president of the organization.

After lunch the convention marched to the cenotaph to lay a wreath.

The convention was concluded with the entertainment of all the delegates at the club rooms of the Edmonton branch.

HOLLANDS NAMED PRESIDENT

Thomas Hollands, last year's vice president of the association, was elected president for the coming year. Mr. Hollands served overseas during the First World War with the 101st Fusiliers. He has been a member of the Association for 24 years. At present he is employed as maintenance man with the Edmonton Transit System.

Other officers elected include: Jack Coyle, Lethbridge, first vice-president; Roderick Macdonald, Calgary, second vice-president; H. S. Reynolds, Edmonton, secretary-treasurer; William Smith, Edmonton, Stan Tucker, Calgary, Robert Farrell, Lethbridge, executive members.

BOARD ASKED IN BREWERIES WAGE DISPUTE

The Alberta Board of Industrial relations will be asked to intervene in a dispute between brewery companies and 225 Edmonton and Lethbridge brewery employes.

Announcement of the request was made by officials of the Brewery, Malt, Soft Drink Workers and Allied Trades Federations in Calgary Saturday.

About 100 Edmonton workers are involved in the dispute against Sicks' breweries in Edmonton and Lethbridge and Northwest Breweries in Edmonton.

Intervention is similar to conciliation in which the board calls employers and employes together for discussions.

It is seldom used in labor disputes but is provided for under the Alberta Labor Act.

If the present move fails to settle the dispute, it will go to arbitration.

Polish Vets Recall Battle

A capacity crowd of Polish war veterans and their families filled the Legion Hall Sunday night to hear a memorial program in memory of the taking of Cassino, Italy

Four years ago, on May 18, 1944, Polish troops of the Eighth Army stormed the fortress of Cassino and opened the way to assault on the Hitler Line.

Chaplain E. Malak, of the Polish Combatants Association, gave the introductory address.

Joseph Kaczamark, president of the Edmonton branch and vice-president of the Association for Canada, reviewed achievements of Polish troops during the war.

Lantern slides were shown on the battle for Cassino.

Orders following the battle by General Alexander and other army leaders were read by P. Dembowski.

Music was supplied by the Association choir and soloists.

Nearly 170 Polish war veterans are members of the Edmonton branch of the Polish Combatants Association.

Students Encouraged To Complete Studies

Students in Alberta high schools with poor attendance records should be encouraged to complete their studies this year, according to department of education officials, today.

Copy of a letter sent by W. E. Frame, chief superintendent of schools for divisional superintendents was released Tuesday.

It explains according to present regulations a student must have had at least 160 days attendance at schools to obtain credits for the subjects he studies.

"Extreme hardship" would be worked on some students unable to attend school due to blocked roads, the letter explains and urges students not to leave school in discouragement due to a poor attendance record.

Nor does the department wish to cause "disillusionment" of some high school credits because of failure to get 160 days attendance when acceptable reasons for absence from school exist."

The letter asks the teachers and superintendents to make complete reports on these special cases to be sent in with the principals confidential reports at the end of June.

No Grade nine student is to be permitted from writing his exams because of a poor attendance record, Mr. Frame tells the superintendents in his letter, but asks a complete report on cases of low attendance records here as well.

Fruit Culture Talk

Edmonton Horticultural Society will meet in the Museum of Arts Wednesday at 8 p.m. Speaker will be Dr. R. J. Hilton of the University of Alberta. Subject: "Fruit Culture and Pruning."

The Story Of Canada Dry

SINCE MONDAY, DEC. 1st LAST YEAR, THE EMPLOYEES OF CANADA DRY GINGER ALE HAVE BEEN ON STRIKE IN EDMONTON

HERE IS THE REASON

Four years ago an Agreement was signed between this Company and Soft Drink Workers Local 260, which established base wage rates of 47c an hour for women and 60c an hour for men.

Since then the cost of living has risen tremendously and every effort to secure wage increases to compensate for this increase have been turned down by the Company—one proposal a year ago offered the employees 5c an hour if they would work 4 hours more per week (They have a 44-hour week).

Negotiations were commenced early last summer for a new Agreement. Efforts failed and the Union made an application for a Conciliation Commissioner. The Conciliation Commissioner also failed to settle their dispute and a Board of Arbitration was established.

The Arbitration Board unanimously awarded the employees an increase of 10c an hour. This was accepted by the employees but the Company absolutely ignored the decision and refused to make the increase.

The only thing left to do was take a Government-supervised strike vote. This was done, and of 345 employees involved, 45 cast their ballots, 41 voted in favor of strike action and 4 were against.

As soon as the Employees went on strike, the Company advertised in the Edmonton papers for help. Posters were also placed on the University Campus asking the students to do part-time work.

Key men were brought from Winnipeg by air and those hired as strike-breakers were paid 90c an hour. The office staff and salesmen were put to work in the plant also.

The result of all this is that the Employees of this Company are of necessity still on strike. Efforts have been made from time to time and try and reach a settlement of the dispute. The Company, in all cases, has ignored the proposals.

Canada Dry Ginger Ale has, therefore, been placed on the "Unfair List" of every Trade Union in Alberta and many others all over the Dominion.

You are urged to remember when purchasing Ginger Ale and other Soft Drinks, that you purchase only "UNION MADE" Beverages.

Playgrounds For Children

Last year Edmonton had 11 supervised playgrounds for children. This year there are 14. By the end of 1949 the Civic Recreation Commission hopes to have 24 fully supervised open-air playgrounds in operation serving children between the ages of four and 15.

Taking this work over from the [illegible]ro Club in 1946, the Recreation Commission has done a magnificent job of providing spaces where Edmonton's children can find healthy and wholesome entertainment.

It is obvious that the city requires a good many more than 14 or 24 supervised playgrounds for games and outdoor amusement. These playgrounds are one of the finest antidotes for juvenile delinquency and one of the most successful methods of preventing street accidents to children.

In constructing these playgrounds and finding staff to look after them, the Recreation Commission is limited only by the funds at its disposal.

In this respect, the city council and the citizens should be generous. A thousand dollars spent on a playground now will yield future dividends in good citizenship worth millions.

Political Straws in the Wind

The Socialist government of Saskatchewan will go to the polls on June 24 to ask for a public endorsation of its policies and performances.

Holding 47 out of the 55 Saskatchewan seats as it does, the CCF government's decision to call an election a full year before the natural expiry date could indicate a fear of waning public support.

The fight, as is indicated at present, is between the Liberals and the CCF since the Progressive Conservatives, up to the present, have nominated candidates in only ten ridings.

There is no doubt that practical Socialism is on trial in this election and that it is not at all certain the present Douglas government can perpetuate itself. Both Liberals and Progressive Conservatives in Saskatchewan seem to be certain that the CCF, if it is returned at all, will suffer a reduced majority, particularly in the cities where there is more general knowledge of the operations of the government's state-owned industries.

For instance, wide publicity is being given to the highly dubious "success" of the footwear, tannery and woolen mill divisions of Saskatchewan Industries up to the end of 1947.

The tannery showed sales of $33,909.-51 but a net loss of $3,203.22. The leather products factory showed sales of $71,557.-95 and a net profit of $520.19.

The wool products division sales were $226,421.81 and its net profit $4,221.84.

The untaxed products of these industries were sold in competition with products of private industry which carried a heavy tax. A recent analysis of the sales dollar for nine London, Ontario, firms, including one textile factory and one shoe factory, revealed that 11½ per cent of the sales dollar went for taxes.

On the London basis, the Saskatchewan tannery division loss would have been doubled, the leather products net profit would have been changed into an $8,000 loss and the wool products profit of more than $4,000 would have become a loss of over $20,000.

The facts do not make out a good case for practical Socialism.

For Bigger and Better Monotony

The CBC board of governors will permit the mention of prices in radio advertising beginning September 1 and will thereby inaugurate a period of bigger and better broadcasting monotony.

Radio commercials, in many instances, have already touched absolute zero in point of inanity. Now to the recitation of products' virtues in song and drama will be added a spate of figures.

It will be a bit of an anti-climax because some merchandise has been described in such awestruck superlatives that the public had come to believe that it was manufactured, not for profit, but for the greater good of humanity and was practically beyond price.

The new regulation in regard to prices fortunately covers a six-months trial period only.

It is a good thing there is a limit on it because only confusion and dispute can come out of the use of prices on the air.

A written advertisement is on the record. It is in plain black and white for future reference. But a spoken advertisement is a fleeting thing in which the listening public will be inclined to hear, not the prices as they are, but as they would like them to be.

The pronounced simplification and repetition of radio commercials indicate how completely the radio people are conscious of the public's tendency to mis-hear and misinterpret what they hear on the air. This is a normal and natural error because about 63 percent of human beings remember by sight and only by sight. They get a vague impression from what they hear but they must confirm it in their minds by seeing it.

Price quotations in radio commercials, then, are going to cause uncertainty and dispute.

The CBC has at last succeeded in adding confusion to monotony.

On the Real Prospect Of Boredom in Utopia

I woke up yesterday morning at the usual time, which, believe me, is brutally early. Then I remembered that it was a holiday.

So with ecstatic torpor I burrowed back into the pillow for another sleep.

I did sleep—for all of thirty minutes. Then I was attacked by the typical holiday unease and all the ecstasy was gone.

What would I do with the day?

Would I go somewhere? What was the use when all journeys always end at the place where they start?

Should I do a little work on one or two small projects that occasionally engage my attention when I come all over black Irish and fall into that Keltic introspection that leads to the door of the looney bin?

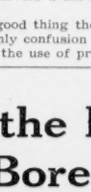

Now what fun is there in hobbies when you've got plenty of time for them?

The upshot of all this holiday indecision was that my mind went back with something of a jolt to a remark made by Premier Ernest Manning in his speech at last week's convocation.

He said:

"If you are climbing the ladder to success on the 40-hour week, you may be assured you'll die of old age before you hit the top."

Too, too true.

WEIR

Filling Up Idle Hours

Now I have no objection in the world to the 40-hour week as an objective of labor. If a man can earn a respectable living by working 40 hours every seven days I have no quarrel with his position.

But I do wonder what he is going to do with the other 142 hours.

Suppose he sleeps for 50 of them, which is a good sound average that few people attain, he will still have 86 hours left.

Just sit down and try to map out a time-table for 86 hours a week.

There will be so much time for eating, so much time for playing games, so much time for picture shows and radio listening and about 40 solid hours of sheer unadulterated boredom.

Get A Hobby, The Man Says

There is an ancient standard formula for the filling in of vacant hours.

Get a hobby, the man says.

Carve ornaments out of tree roots; make things out of wood; do a little metal work; get a glass-blowing outfit; learn to tat.

All these things are good wholesome fun. And, as the advertisements say, you can make a little money on the side.

But the oddest thing about hobbies is that only the busiest people have time for them.

You derive the greatest joy out of a hobby only when you have a worried feeling that you should be doing something more important.

That seems to be part of the trick. Hobbies have a therapeutic value only when they are pursued at the expense of your regular job, only when they are accomplished on stolen time.

I have no explanation for this psychological phenomenon. But I offer it as a fact.

And it is a highly dangerous fact if it is bad enough to be discontented in your job But God help you if you become bored with your hobby because your last refuge is gone.

Man's Enemy Number One

Whatever the philosophical or theological inference may be, the fact is this:

Boredom is the greatest enemy of man.

It is my firm belief that boredom causes more trouble than greed and vanity and selfishness put together.

The reason boredom is so insidious is because it attacks the best of us. The downright selfish man or greedy man or vain man is a stinker anyway and you don't expect anything from him.

But even the most virtuous can be bored—as well as boring.

Boredom sort of sneaks up on you when you are most chockful of good intentions and first thing you know you are cheating at solitaire, reading "Forever Amber" or robbing the piggy bank.

It's all summed up in the old saw about Satan finding mischief for idle hands to do, or something like that.

Of course I'll accept the 40-hour week.

But I won't like it.

Smiles

One Sunday the local church became so crowded that the pastor decided to have the verger stand outside with a notice reading "House Full." Just then a little man ran up and wanted to enter. Upon being refused admission, he pleaded that he had a very urgent message to deliver to John Smith—a matter of life and death.

The verger, a kind old man, eventually succumbed.

"All right," he said, "you can slip in—but Heaven help you if I catch you praying!"

A disreputable-looking character waylaid a member of a swanky club as he stepped into his car.

"Just gimme a penny mister," he whined. "I'm starving."

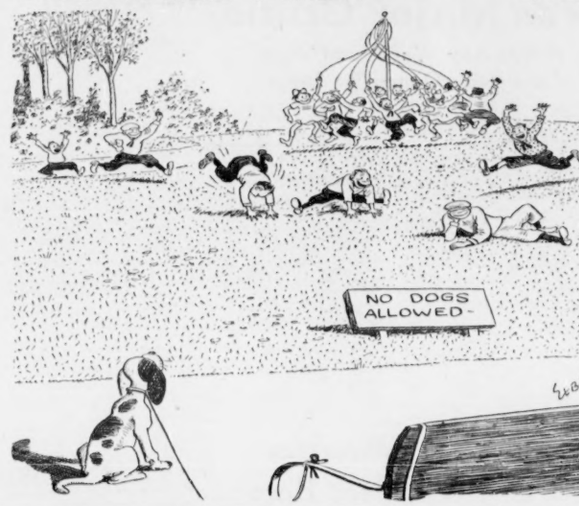

The member of the club obliged, but could not help remarking:

"I'm afraid you won't be able to buy much food for a penny these days."

"It's not for food," said the tramp. "I ain't had a bite now for six days, and I want to weigh myself!"

Looting Alberta

Editor, Bulletin.—The stage is set, or, for those who prefer a more slangy phraseology, the layout has been eased and all is nearly ready for the looting of Alberta's wealth in inflammable natural gas.

What is Alberta to get out of this deal? Nothing, so far as has been shown. In fact, through a special kind of sophistry in their reasoning, the government is demanding that the outlanders shall not be charged more for this utility than we are here in Alberta. They are afraid that if we charge them too much for the gas, more of it will be used.

It required dickering with the Dominion government from 1905 to 1929 to obtain our natural resources and it now looks as though we are to turn around and hand them out free gratis to all comers who have the capital to take them away with them.

The province of Saskatchewan, who is to be one of the main beneficiaries in this distribution of Alberta's wealth, is also the leading critic at Ottawa in framing the bill to incorporate the Pipe Line Co.

The Saskatchewan government has been charging the Clay Products Co. at Medicine Hat excessive royalties per ton on clay taken from the company's own clay pit on the Saskatchewan side of the border. The object of this is to force the company to move to Saskatchewan. From a business viewpoint it might be highly advisable for them to move to the claypits now if they are to be guaranteed as low a rate there as they have here for gas for firing and heating and can reach a settlement re royalties. The same reason will likely hold good in locating many other industries in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Is this deal ever political dynamite? But one might think it only ordinary business from the nonchalant manner in which it is being put over.

He That Is Without Sin

Editor, Bulletin—It seems to me that there is an old saying, "He that is without sin, let him cast the first stone."

Well, there has been a lot said regarding running the city's business, and I rather think that, after reading Monday's and Tuesday's Bulletin of last week, and reading a particular report of a local wedding, that the editor cannot run his own paper properly yet, and it would be better for him to attend to his paper and keep his "personal column" clean and free from such ads as I drew their attention to several weeks ago, and not butt into the city's affairs.

Barter Trade

Editor, Bulletin.—The Iron Curtain is an invisible, imaginary barrier between two distinct, different systems of world-trade. In the east barter trade, in the west, standardized trade.

In the post-war period we find all articles in the world except Switzerland, Argentina and the United States, short of negotiable securities, gold or the U.S. dollar. Under the circumstances barter provides a successful means of getting much desired trade going quickly. Barter agreements allows each country to negotiate for the kind of goods it is most in need of, rather than goods upon which the greatest profit can be made. No loans or any specific medium of exchange comes into the deal.

This kind of trade bypasses the golden calf and vested interests who are unable to dictate terms in large scale financial manoeuvres. If you, dear reader, are endowed with a sense of imagination, then you can imagine the golden harvest to be reaped by U.S. financial interests if barter should be abolished and the whole world brought under the Marshall Plan and made secure for American investments.

I do not think it is physically or financially possible for the United States to assume such a role. However, this is actually what is being attempted.

Is American concern over the well-being of the people on the other side of the Iron Curtain and their lack of freedom under Communist governments the real son for the hostility that exists between Russia and the U.S.A.? I think not.

Rather we would find its expression in the challenge which barter trade provides against that of trade under capitalism as we know it. Sufficient proof is now available to show that eastern Europe is successfully rebuilding itself without the American dollar.

According to reports, the United Kingdom, as well as Canada, have brought out budgets showing a large surplus, yet both countries must negotiate loans from Uncle Sam. This method of forcing other countries into agreements to use and accept U.S. dollars in trade, places unsurmountable obstacles against a free and unhindered flow of international trade.

If one country is allowed to dictate what kind of exchange all countries are to use then Democracy is dead.

This challenge is brought forcefully to our minds while the great Bear walks along the borders of the barter trades area, apparently unconcerned over the commotion it stirs up amongst those who have already counted their chicks, even before the eggs have been properly inspected and placed in the incubator.

Law On Margarine

Editor, Bulletin. — In connection with the oleomargine law, do you think that something could be made of the fact that the butter substitute must have "the appearance of butter" in order to violate the law?

Presumably there is nothing to prevent the sale of a butter substitute which by its appearance would not be mistaken for butter by the public. For instance, could two constituted ingredients be sold (if each ingredient were unlike butter) which would be mixed by the purchaser.

To pursue the thought further, how about selling colorless margarine—which looks like lard—and a tiny container of coloring matter, these two ingredients to be mixed by the purchaser.

Who's Going To Pay?

Editor, Bulletin — "Justice" writes in your paper: "Husbands who abandon their families can not evade the law by leaving the province. They can be brought back by a warrant."

He neglected to add: Provided the deserted wife, or someone on her behalf, guarantees the costs of bringing the husband back. Further a court order for maintenance is equally difficult of enforcement due to the same obstacle, namely, cost of bringing back within the jurisdiction of the court.

"Justice," in my opinion is one thing deserted wives in this province have not yet obtained.

"NO JUSTICE."

Landlords Don't Lose

Editor, Bulletin—We tenants are very grateful to the government and public for the interest in retaining rent control and shielding us from unmerciful landlords.

They are only kidding when they write nonsense about their losses while houses are selling at three times their value. My advice to the poor dumb landlords who pretend they are being stung is to sell while houses are in demand. Otherwise stop your kidding.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

It's an old ring trick for a fighter to create over-confidence in his opponent by stimulating carelessness or weakness, and then try to administer the knockout.

We are witnessing a variation of this trick, I believe, in Moscow's "peace" offensive against Washington. This is a thinly-disguised effort to create the impression that (1) a beneficent Russia wants peace and that (2) a war-mongering United States rejects the overture.

The latest phase of this "peace" drive was the week-end blast from Moscow, blaming the United States for the present state of relations between the two countries.

Perhaps these specious manoeuvres are tricking some folk, but informed observers recognize the developments as part and parcel of the world revolution for the spread of Communism. If you can check closely the current events in Europe and Asia—relatively small in recent days, perhaps, but highly significant—you will see that the Red mill keeps right on grinding out the grisly grist for Bolshevism.

What, then, has Russia hoped to achieve by its "peace" gesture?

One objective undoubtedly is to try to confuse public thinking in the west, and lessen resistance to Communism. Intervention in the United States presidential campaign was an important feature of this effort.

By the same token, the "peace" offensive and the war-mongering charges against the United States constitute a red herring which the Soviet is drawing across the trail of the Marshall Plan and other democratic efforts. This same scheme is being worked in Korea, which the Communists are determined to take over, thereby obtaining one of the world's most important military bases.

Naturally the hardening of the stand of the western European countries against Communism has had much to do with Moscow's "peace" diversion. The Marshall Plan is getting under way. Alliances are being formed to halt Red aggression. The democratic citizens of France and Italy have given the big Communist parties in their countries a terrific political trouncing, thereby weakening Moscow's two strongest bases in Western Europe.

So Moscow, encountering resistance all along the line, tries to create a lull in the storm. But let nobody think that Bolshevism is quitting world revolution.

OUR TOWN

Not Many Will Find Ease Here

A letters-to-the-editor controversy is raging in one of the London newspapers about Englishmen emigrating to this country, a migration going on by the boat load, and there's a great temptation to get in the fight.

In the last few months my path has crossed a dozen or more men who have come to Canada full of hope and misinformation. I have admired some of these men and I've been disgusted by some of them.

I admired one yesterday. He is a young fellow, maybe 25, who came out of the Royal Air Force well-equipped to drop a block-buster on a munitions dump, but qualified for very little else.

He came around to see me originally because he wants to write and he's had no luck getting a job with the newspapers. I wasn't much help to him, but we talked about other things and made a date for lunch yesterday.

When we met again he told me that it looked as if he'd have to go elsewhere into the province to get work of any kind and so, that morning, he'd bought a bus ticket to Chilliwack. He was going to take the first farm job that he thought he could handle. And it was a one-way bus ticket.

It's a real blow to this kid. He had dreams of starting a career that would appeal to him. He thought he was headed for the promised land. But I would make a bet that he will swallow his pride and get that job. And he will be an asset to Canada.

So much for one aspect of that letters-to-the-editor controversy, voiced by a clergyman who wrote: "It is time our young people recaptured the pioneering spirit. They are waiting to seek better lives in the young, virile countries of the Empire."

Calls Them The Quitters

On the other side of the London argument are the English who feel that many emigrants are merely looking for a more comfortable life. One writer called them "softies who don't deserve to be called Englishmen."

There is certainly some basis for that criticism. I have met more than one new arrival who fled from home with no more solid reason than a hunger for bacon and eggs.

"We were fed up with queues and rations and austerity," one told me. "Life was just too drab for us and we determined to get out, no matter where we had to go."

It is easy to be sympathetic with those people. Life in England today has hit the jackpot of petty irritations. There is certainly a long road ahead before things will be back to normal. You can understand the impatience of a person who feels he is not getting the most out of life.

But it would certainly be unwise to call these people pioneers or to believe that they are a sure asset for this country. They are not adventurers looking for a new test of their energies and ambition. It is not pioneering but escape that brings such Englishmen here. They are short-sighted quitters who are looking only for an easier life.

It is not merely that these people have deserted their country in an hour of trial, but they are selling England short. I have been disillusioned on many occasions by hearing ex-patriates talk of England as a broken power, or bellyaching about the Labor government's reforms.

They are people who obviously find no zest in facing a challenge, willing to ride along when things are good, but abandoning the ship in the storm.

These Are Most Unhappy

The real tragedy of the English emigrants are those middle-aged or over-middle-aged people who have come here expecting a life of ease in "the colonies" and have suffered a rude jolt.

They aren't allowed to bring enough money to keep them going and that means finding a job. I talked to one Englishman of this type not so long ago. He was astounded to find no "suitable" openings in white collar executive positions and acted as if the business firms here were run by fools. And he was certainly not going to work as a common laborer.

He was bitterly caustic about the cost of living, too. "A man can live in London for less than his food costs here," he said, almost in the same breath as a blast at British austerity. The whole outlook was one of a disgruntled man who feels he is somehow being denied his rights.

From the seeds of such discontent grow the professional Englishmen, ten times more "English" in voice and manner than anyone in the Old Country, contemptuous of the life we lead here, yet accepting its advantages.

Almost anywhere in the world you travel, from Victoria, British Columbia, to Georgetown, British Guiana, you meet these tweedy birds, probably the worst advertisement for the real England that could be conceived.

We need more of the kind of people that ex-RAF lad represents. The others bring nothing with them and, I suppose, find nothing.

Trivia

See where surly Winter passes off,
Far to the north, and calls his ruffian blasts:
His blasts obey, and quit the howling hill,
The shattered forest and the ravished vale;
While softer gales succeed, at whose kind touch,
Dissolving snows in livid torrents lost,
The mountains lift their green heads to the sky.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Annual Festival Draws 88 Entries

Beaverlodge Music and Drama Event Produces Fine Talent

BEAVERLODGE, May 25.—Beaverlodge and District music and drama festival was held in the Community Center here this week. There was a total of 88 entries, and many fine performances were given.

The morning session in the ballroom consisted of vocal solos and choruses under the adjudication of Mrs. A. Schrag of Spirit River. D. Blackie, also of Spirit River, adjudicated the drama members, and R. E. Byron, superintendent of Schools for Grande Prairie and district, handled those of the physical education group. These two classes were presented in the theatre.

Mrs. E. B. St. Jean of Rycroft, was adjudicator of the piano solos which, with Adult Vocal Classes, made up the afternoon session in the ballroom.

Adjudicators commented upon the fine talent apparent in many of the numbers and complimented those in charge upon the quality of the entries.

A huge crowd attended the grand concert in the evening, which satisfactorily completed the festivities of the day.

Bill Wood Hurls Unofficial No-Hitter at Kingsway Park

Bill Wood, a blond right-hander with Central Legionnaires of the Senior Men's Fastball League, had the roughest kind of luck under the Kingsway Park lights Monday night.

He celebrated Victoria Day by shackling RCAF Aces with a 5-0 no-hitter—but officially his effort won't go into the record books. To make matters worse, the Airmen may be credited with Monday's contest.

As yet Wood's transfer from Moose to Central Legionnaires hasn't become effective. That technicality prevents his performance from becoming official.

But it was a fine personal triumph nonetheless. Wood faced 29 men, one reaching third via the error route and another drawing a base on balls. He struck out 14 batsmen.

THREE-RUN RALLY

Legionnaires scored three in the fifth and added two in the eighth.

Hits by Ross MacBeth, Sam Stevenson and Bill Feeney combined with a RCAF error, accounted for the fifth-inning rally. Ted Filipow allowed five hits and fanned 10 in his losing attempt.

In the first game Walk-Rites trimmed South Side ladies 6-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Jo Bodnar.

A three-run up-rising in the bottom of the fifth inning sparked Walk-Rites to a 4-1 triumph over Mortons in the lid-lifter before a good crowd Sunday afternoon.

The follow-up saw Precision Maciners eke out a narrow 3-2 win over Anavets behind the steady five-hit hurling of Bill Onischuk.

Honorary Mayor Gordie Watt, Acting Mayor Sid Parsons and the "daddy of Edmonton fastball," Paul Soderberg, officially tore the wrapper off the '48 season.

ON THE RUN

Parsons, on the run to the soccer kick-off at Clarke Stadium, stayed long enough to present Emory Long with the Sonny Wheatfield Trophy. Long was voted the most valuable player in the league last season.

The teams dished up good ball despite little out-of-door training. Joyce Comrie of Mortons was the big bat in the ladies' game, blasting out three singles in four attempts. Marg Royce, Walk-Rite third sacker, pulled off a number of fielding-gems.

Hurlers Onischuk and Stan Winger, Anavets, were in control throughout the men's battle, each hurling a five-hitter.

Esks Thump Hapless Cubs

Harneymen Need Transfusion After Hazardous Week-End

If a transfusion would do the trick then it's a certainty that Laurel Harney, manager of Edmonton Motors Cubs, would be on the lookout for the biggest blood bank the city boasts.

Those Cubs can't do anything right in Big Four Baseball League company.

Monday night the Harneymen dropped a 13-11 decision to the Eskimos of peppery Ed Morris. The reverse was the seventh in eight starts for the cubs. Coming, as it did, on top of three straight week-end hotfoots administered by Calgary Purity 99 it lift Cubs more firmly anchored in the basement.

In the meantime Purity, kingpins last season, continue to grow fat at the head of the standings.

They toyed with Cubs while handing out Saturday-Sunday pastings to the tune of 9-2 and 12-9. John Carpenter was supreme in the Saturday tilt at Renfrew. Sunday afternoon Joe Kanik stood out in a relief role after taking over from rookie Larry Cameron in the second inning.

Kanik allowed just one hit. However he dished out eight bases on balls. In addition he set up what is believed to be a record for Renfrew when he singled in four successive trips to the plate in successive innings.

In Monday's Esk-Cubs clash Harold Callihan, a pitching newcomer, was credited with his first victory in the Big Four. Before the slugfest wound up Callihan was pitted against his younger brother Vern, who worked in relief for Cubs.

Dave Brockie homered over the right wall in the seventh inning for the big poke of the game.

At Calgary at the week-end Esks broke even with Buffs. The Edmonton squad went under by 9-7 on Saturday only to rebound for a 11-5 victory Sunday afternoon.

Josephsburg Cops Baseball Honors

Josephburg won it all in the annual May 24 baseball tournament at Fort Saskatchewan.

The Josephburg club uncovered heavy hitting power to defeat Bon Accord, Chipman and Lamont in order. They walloped Lamont 14-3 in the final game of the afternoon.

Edmonton Canadians, under Ed Reschke's guidance, reached the semi-finals before bowing to Lamont 5-0. Earlier, 17-year-old Keith Aldridge hurled Canucks past Gibbons by a 9-7 count. Len K..lson, a shortstop on most days, pitched a commendable game before losing to Lamont in the quarter finals.

Complete results follow:

10:00 a.m.—Canadians def. Gibbons 9-7; Lamont def. Fort Saskatchewan 8-2.

12:00 noon—Chipman def. Horse Hills 4-2; Josephsburg def. Bon Accord.

2:00 p.m.—Semi-finals: Lamont def. Canadians 5-0; Josephsburg def. Chipman.

7:00 p.m.—Finals: Josephsburg def. Lamont 14-3.

North Siders and Leafs Chalk Up Soccer Victories

They started chasing the leather-coated ball in earnest over at Clarke Stadium during the holiday week-end.

Soccer was on the menu from Saturday till Monday, and the North Side Legion and Maple Leaf Juniors are still kicking .1000 per cent after the three strenuous sessions.

Hon. Mayor Gordon Watt kicked off the ball for the Red Cross match which the All-Stars won Saturday from the RCAF 4-0, while Sunday the Legion conquered the Cloverdale eleven 5-0 and Monday the Junior Leafs had a little too much dash for Oliver St. Pats, emerging with a 4-2 edge.

A good crowd was on hand for the opener Saturday. The School Boys' Band was in attendance, and a group of majorettes lent added color.

"Who's winning?" inquired a late comer.

"The mosquitoes," replied Jack Wilce, lanky Northside Legion player and he certainly had the evidence.

The calibre of soccer was considered by the experts to be good for this time of year.

The juniors displayed a lot of go against the St. Pats. They assumed a 2-0 lead in the first half on a close-in shot by Don Brown, and Billy Greene's break-away. Both came from smart passing efforts.

Ted James put the Pats within striking distance, but Greene came back for his second goal of the game after 20 minutes of play. B Hoskins gave the Pats another life, but at the 45-minute mark, Scotty Thomson clinched the issue on a close-in kick.

North Side demonstrated some of the power that carried the team to the Western Canada semi-finals last season. Legion held a wide edge all the way, but the battling Cloverdale eleven held the score down to 1-0 at the breather.

Dave Gillings headed a cross from George Ross for the opener, and with the wind at their backs in the second half Gillings and Bob Graham had a bit of a field day. Each counted two nifty goals.

SHOW PROMISE

Cloverdale—runner-up for city honors last season—showed lots of promise, but couldn't match the organized attack of the Legion.

Airmen lacked a co-ordinated attack against the classy league All-Stars. They appeared to either be out of condition or lack understanding. However they showed plenty of football ability.

The Stars vaulted into a 3-0 lead in the first half on goals by W. Greene (2) and Jack Wilce. Wilce scored the lone goal of the second half.

CERDAN DETHRONED AS EUROPEAN KING

BRUSSELS, May 25.—(AP)—Cyrille DeLannoit, unheralded Belgian boxer, dethroned Marcel Cerdan as European middleweight champion Sunday night by scoring an upset, 15-round decision over the Frenchman. Each weighed 160 pounds.

It was a severe blow for Cerdan who had been sought by promoters in the United States for a September title fight with the winner of the Rocky Grazianno Tony Zale championship bout at Newark, N.J., June 9.

It was a close fight all the way and many ringsiders thought Cerdan had earned the decision.

When the referee pointed to DeLannoit as the winner, Cerdan dropped to the canvas and wept in disappointment. Cerdan has asked for a return bout.

Blistering Stretch Drive Gives Last Mark Plate Win

By Jack Mitchell

WOODBINE PARK, Toronto, May 25.—(CP)—Last Mark, Jim Fair's stout-hearted brown colt, came up with a blistering stretch drive Monday to win the 89th annual running of the historic $10,000 added King's Plate, with its purse of 50 guineas donated by The King.

It was a popular victory with a crowd that installed Last Mark a 5-2 favorite in the classic for Canadian-bred three-year-olds.

The fleet colt drove across the finish line 4¾ lenghts in front and still pulling away.

Lord Fairmond, from the Winnipeg stable of Jim Speers and ridden by ace jockey Johnny Longden, was second and W. J. Fewster's colt Joey Bomber was third in the first of 16 homers.

A colorful Victoria Day crowd of near 50,000 saw Last Mark race the Plate distance of 1⅛ miles in 1.52 flat, a Plate record but not a track record for the distance.

Last Mark, fleet son of Koenigsmark out of McTab—last of his line and so named because of his sire's death after he was foaled—was expertly ridden by young Howard Bailey.

TOOK LEAD AT STRETCH

Rated off the pace over the first half, Last Mark took the lead in the stretch turn and pulled away steadily.

Lord Fairmond, third choice in the betting, took second money by less than a length over Joey Bomber, who started as a 40 to 1 shot and led in the early going. The victory was worth $11,710 to Fair, the Cainsville, Ont., breeder and owner, in addition to the 50 guineas. Of that $700 was for breeding the winner and the remainder was the win pool, comprising $10,000 given by the Ontario Jockey Club and the subscription money paid to the starters since they were nominated 18 months ago.

Last Mark started at odds of 5 to 2, paying $7.05 for a $2 winning ticket.

"Uncle Jim" fair showed that he knew his Last Mark could do it all the time. He turned up for the presentation dressed in his best sporty fawn hat with top coat to match and even wearing a tie.

It was a star studded field with many fans influenced by three "name" jockeys, Johnny Longden on second place Lord Fairmond, Bobby Watson on Carr Hatch's fourth place Sweepblu and Ted Atkinson on Charlie Turner's All-British.

Longden, top ranking United States jockey from Taber, Alta., rode Silent Day for another second in an earlier race.

One fan took in the classic from an aerial position in the cockpit of a light plane which buzzed over the track at a few hundred feet.

English Hurdle Records Smashed

LONDON, May 25. — (AP) — Maureen Gardner, 19-year-old Oxford ballet teacher, broke the British 80 meters hurdles record for the second time in a week at Chiswick Saturday.

Miss Gardner, one of Britain's brightest Olympic hopes, was timed in 11.2 — three-tenths of a second faster than the established time of Beryl Clarke.

The Weatherman Hit 1000

There—friends—was a 24th to remember.

Perfect weather, regardless of one's taste. A host of attractions, including the Cubs-Esks slugfest at Renfrew Park that came more or less at the end of the day, fastball and soccer clashes, competitions at the various golf courses swimming and a whack or two at the clay pigeons for those who want to maintain their rating in Dead-Eye-Dick society; tennis and canoeing.

Wilson Faulder and his pals of the Lions club drew the big crowd of the day to their exciting model-T races at the Exhibition grounds.

Plenty of the citizens took their fun at nearby lake resorts. More just stayed at home and gave muscles a workout in the garden. Several dozen racing enthusiasts made it to Calgary for the opening of the prairie turf season. Those to trek south included Lee Williams and the lady of the house (their Frank's Mistake paid $16 and some change in winning on Saturday), Mr. and Mrs. Ross McPherson, John McDougall and his wife (Kingsway stable), Dr. Walter MacKenzie, Walter and Mary Sprague (Vegas Terry, Blenaway), Hon. Lucien Maynard, Dr. Gordon Ellis and more.

Yes sir, there were few who didn't get into the act in one way or another.

And to top it off a fireworks display when the sun had thrown in the towel. Sure, it was for the kids. But you know who set off most of the firecrackers, etc.

★ ★ ★ ★

Down Memory Lane

Inevitably the current May 24th must remind of the way others were celebrated in the past. It isn't hard, for instance, to recollect those track and field meetings, staged at the South Side exhibition grounds in the 1920's.

Dr. M. M. (Doc) Dunsworth, Roy Haliburton, Harold Haight and more were the collective magnet which packed 'em in. There was the ball game at the south end of the grounds. The late Jimmy Smith—he was the big man on the South Side in those days—usually headed the committee in charge.

Those sports days were mighty popular. The automobile wasn't nearly the factor it is today. People stayed in the city. The thing to do was go to the South Side grounds.

Some years they did it all over again on July 1.

Generally the day wound up with the staging of a huge street dance. They sprinkled Whyte avenue with powder guaranteed to make the going easier.

Only the weaklings passed up the dance. Frequently the balltossers didn't bother even to change from uniforms to street clothes. The monkey suit was a badge of distinction.

'Those Basement Blues' . . . Harney

Of course that's all in the past.

There's the present to think about and if one happens to be Laurel Harney it doesn't make for pleasant thinking.

Off what's happening to his Cubs of the Big Four Baseball League these days, Harney has a right to be gloomy, May 24 or no.

Those Cubs can't 'buy' a win. Pretty soon, now, unless hoped-for help arrives in the meantime, the Harneymen are going to be so far behind it may take Pinkertons to find them.

Oddly enough what the Cubs need is an infusion of talent. Manager Harney wouldn't turn up his nose at a couple of good pitchers. As well outside of Nick Masikewich and Milt (The Fireman), Trann Cubs don't boast a left hand hitter. And Pitcher Trann, let it be said, hits no better, no worse than do most of the elbowing brigade.

Of course a new and better worry, quite apart from Cubs' present unfortunate state, was plaguing Renfrew Park heavyweights at midnight of May 24, 1948.

There were ominous warnings that the lordly Saskatchewan was about to break out of its britches. The baseball stockade was deemed in some danger of being inundated. So much so that orders went out to all park personnel to keep a sharp eye on the situation in case it becomes necessary to remove certain appurtenances (this is a word) that might not do so good if the flood waters come.

In the meantime Manager Harney, to say nothing of the big-wigs at Edmonton Motors (sponsors of the Cubs), is keeping an equally sharp eye on the League standings. Also it's said that he's meeting all trains in a spirited hunt for talent.

McFARLANE SCORES OLYMPIC TRIALS WIN

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., May 25.—(CP)—Bob McFarlane, star runner from the University of Western Ontario, featured the first major Ontario track and field meet of the season here Saturday by capturing the 100, 200 and 400 metre finals.

No Olympic standards were attained because events were contested on turf, with no cinder track, but some of the province's top flight athletes competed.

In the finals, McFarlane finished the 100 in 10.8 seconds, against an Olympic standard of 10.7. His 200 meters time was 23 seconds flat, against an Olympic standard of 21.8. In the 400 his time was 50.4 compared with the Olympic standard of 49 seconds.

McFarlane's brother Don, also an Olympic candidate, was beaten by Gord Haight of Hamilton Westdale in the 800-metre final.

'Skeeters' Dig Deep Divots in Golfers

By Bert Greer

If it isn't snow, or rain, it's something else.

That seemed to be the attitude of thousands of disgruntled Edmonton golfers over the week-end when they bumped in to the biggest hazard so far—mosquitoes.

The little pests with the big, long stickers became so troublesome Sunday four courses, Mayfair, Country Club, Municipal and Prince Rupert, had their fairways sprayed by plane with a formula called Dunbane.

It killed them all on the course but more soon drifted in from nearby sloughs and in the evening were just about as bad as ever.

★ ★ ★

The extra hazard didn't keep the golfers at home, however. Every course was well patronized and competitions were held at the Mayfair, Country Club, Highlands and Municipal.

At Country Club president Bob Watson's side emerged with a 12¼ to 11 point margin over the forces of Vice-President H. McMahon. Niners turned out for the golf and 75 attended the dinner. Watson, Earl Dingle, head of the sports committee, and Howard Emery gave brief talks. Dingle outlined the sports program for the season and said there would be about eight competitions.

★ ★ ★

A two-day medal event was held at the Mayfair. R. W. (Curly) Curell carded rounds of 83-84 and a net 141 to edge out Maury Van Vliet by a single stroke. He'll take home the Robertson Cup when the prizes are presented next fall.

Third spot went to Bob McNaught and Johnny Aitken with net 145's. Aitken, who was Calgary's youngest amateur champion in 1934, had low gross, 77-78—155. Bill Hoar was next with 157 and Lloyd Greer third with 159.

★ ★ ★

Bob Stewart's handicap is due for a slash. He turned in a net 65 in the medal handicap competition at the Municipal course and held a two-stroke edge over Merle Lightbody and Lionel Pettigrew. Stewart had a gross 81.

Ralph Jones, also one of the city's top bowlers, won low gross honors with a 77, one stroke less than Hammy Dreyer and Tom McCready.

★ ★ ★

The Army and Navy Cup became the possession of Miss Staples, who negotiated the Civic course in 105 for a net 69. Mrs. G. Fullerton and Miss M. Hughes were runners-up with a pair of net 96's. Miss Hughes carded low gross, 96.

★ ★ ★

Three players, Johnny Glasgow, Ed. Thompson and Tom Goodwin tied for the President's prize at the Highlands. The competition is played on handicap against par. They will play off later for the award.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Carnegie, farmer Vancouver, Calgary and Saskatoon pro was in Edmonton on business over the holiday and wound up at the Highlands. He played nine holes with Henry and Burns Martell, and according to Henry their guest was hitting the ball exceptionally well! Chuck finished well up in the Alberta open here last season.

Pruden Handcuffs Canucks on 4 Hits

Whiffs 14 Redlegs to Chalk Up 1st Win in Junior Loop

By Dick Beddoes

The mosquitoes were tough. So was 'Prince Hal' Pruden of the CNR.

For 'Prince Hal' was right, as they say in the trade, and on Sunday he pitched CNR to an 8-1 win over Canadians in the first game of the 1948 junior baseball campaign. In mosquito-infested Clarke Stadium 550 fans witnessed the wiry righthander limit the Redlegs to four hits and strike out 14 over a seven-inning route.

South Side scored five runs in a hectic sixth inning to edge EAC 8-7 in the second contest. Prior to the rally South Side's manager, Marvin Miller, was thumbed from the park by umpire Johnny Lapul for swearing. Miller was protesting Eric Wigeland's wildness on the EAC mound as a hazard to South Side batsmen at the time.

Immediately following Miller's expulsion the Scona nine put together two hits, four EAC errors, and two free passes for the five runs necessary to overtake a 7-3 deficit.

But back to Pruden's masterful performance. Lou Hiatt's freight gang got to Canadian chuckers Tommy McGregor and Clay Truckle for only three hits. But nine walks and a pair of Canuck bungles gave the Calder crew all the margin required to tally four runs in each of the third and sixth innings.

Once on base CRN 'stole 'em blind' for 11 extra bases. In fact, the pilfering got to be so much of a habit that catcher Gus Emberg and shortstop Bob Jackson each made a perfect steal from third to home.

PRUDEN WORKED EASILY

Pruden worked easily and effectively through the sunny afternoon. He issued a base on balls to Don Bailey and a long single to centre by Ken Bennett for Canadians' only run in the second.

Otherwise Hiatt's protege was very much in command. Spot control, a wide-breaking curve and a fair turn of speed were his chief assets in humbling the 1947 champions.

Hal Forss, a 17-year-old righthander, whiffed 13 in South Side's winning effort, but his mates almost kicked it away behind him with five errors in the first three frames. As it was EAC fell apart like the one-hoss shay, what with Wigeland's lack of control and four errors in the sixth. Forss' single and Don Wynn's solid two-run double to centre were the only hits South Side got off the hook.

Heavy hitting in the game and for the day was confined to successive triples to right in the fifth by South siders Clarence Fuerst and Don Wingfield.

Until the EAC collapse, third sacker Clem Kerr was the big story in the second match. He collected a pair of singles to drive in four Clubmen in the early stages.

Offspring Edges Out Mother at Dog Trials

A canine mother was out-smarted by her own flesh and blood at the Edmonton Sporting Dog Club trials Sunday—but like most mothers, she was probably bursting with pride.

The offspring with all the knowhow was Prince of Lowestoft, a black Labrador owned by H. E. Lowes of Regina. He walked off with the open all-age stake, premier award of the meet.

The proud 'mummy' and runner-up, was Lee's Dixie, owned by M. G. McCoy of Ponoka. Sixteen dogs were entered, but 14 were eliminated for various reasons. Prince of Lowestoft was handled by Norman F. Lee, secretary of the Edmonton Sporting Dog Club.

The trials were held at Edmonton Beach and were labelled the best ever staged. Weather conditions were ideal and the dogs gave outstanding performances in each event.

The Puppy Dog Stake was carried off by Mah's Rocky Mountain Boy, owned by W. E. Madge of Edmonton. The black Labrador's reward was the Munson Trophy and some dog food. Second place went to Vic's Winsome Bee's Wing, a black Labrador owned by Gilbert Tucker of Edmonton.

Bird Finder's Timothy came through in the Novice Stake. He is owned by Dr. J. F. Gallivan of Edmonton. Bird Finder's Golden Flash, a golden Labrador owned by Jack Noble, Edmonton, was second, while Champion Duke, a black Labrador owned by Gilbert Tucker was third.

Janitor Contingent Cops City Pin Title

The "loaded" Janitor's Supply trundler team rolled its way to senior men's city championship in the Edmonton Five-Pin Association's annual pin-derby on the Recreation alleys Saturday evening.

Meteors, composed of three femmes and two males, spread the maples with monotonous regularity while winning the mixed title, and Sudies copped ladies' team honors.

"Hot shots" on the Janitor squad were Bob Maughan, Ben Hoffstetter, Jack Edwards, Presty Giffen and Jim Rutherford. They boast a team average of 1,191 pins.

Les Foster, Irene Gaults, Mrs. Marg Hoyes, Vi Foster and George Hoyes formed the Meteor contingent, while Mrs. A. Warner, Mrs. L. Rodway, Mrs. S. Johnstone, Mrs. A. Gemmall and Mrs. D. Bratke struck for Sudies.

Winning teams will be presented with trophies at the next meeting of the five-pin association, probably in the fall. The tourney was run off on a handicap basis.

While the tourney came too late in the season to rouse the interest of many city bowlers, draw secretary Jack Edwards was more than happy with the outcome. At least the trundlers weren't bothered with dive-bombing mosquitoes.

LLOYD MANGRUM FIRES 13-UNDER TO COP TOURNEY

DECATUR, Ill., May 25. — (AP) — Former United States open champion Lloyd Mangrum shot a 13-under-par 200 Sunday to win the $4-hole Decatur golf open.

The Chicagoan's first prize was $1,000. Mangrum held the lead throughout, posting a 65 over the par 36-35—71 South Side Country Club course in Saturday's first 18 holes and carding 65-70 in Sunday's windup.

Herman Keiser of Akrin, O., fired 66-69 Sunday and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., added 68-65 to tie for runner-up spot with 201 totals. They each received $600.

Brooklyn Bums Creep Out of Cellar; Fireman Hugh Casey Lost for 60 Days

NEW YORK, May 25.—(CP)—The gloom lifted slightly over Brooklyn Monday as the Dodgers crawled out of the National League cellar after an overnight stay, but there was still enough bad news to check premature Flatbush optimists.

Balancing the 9-4 win over Cincinnati Reds that ended the Dodgers' eight-game losing streak was the loss of Hugh Casey, the portly barkeep who ranks as one of the top relief pitchers in baseball.

Casey took a tumble on the stairs of his apartment Sunday and fell heavily on his right side. Though X-rays showed no break, he was swathed heavily in bandages and will be out of action for 60 days.

But veteran Elwin (Preacher) Roe finished all by himself Monday as he limited the Redlegs to eight hits while his mates scored six runs in the fourth inning to sew up the game.

Monday's light schedule saw Hal Newhouser recover from a shaky start to pitch shutout ball for the last eight innings as Detroit Tigers beat Washington Senators 5-2 in the Only American League game played.

Philadelphia Phillies stopped the runaway St. Louis Cardinals in a night game, as rookie Johnny Blatnik powered them to a 6-2 victory.

Walt Dubiel limited the Cards to three hits, including Stan Musial's two-run homer in the seventh while Blatnik drove in two Philadelphia runs with a double and a triple.

Dubiel had a no-hitter until Red Schoendienst singled and Musial got his seventh four-bagger of the year. Erv Dusak's ninth-inning single was the only other St. Louis safety.

Highlight of the week-end was a torrid Sunday double-header in which Joe DiMaggio clouted three home runs in the first game to give Yankees a 6-5 win over Cleveland, only to have the Indians bounce back 5-1 in the second. Added to a Saturday homer against Chicago White Sox, that gave Jolting Joe four for the two days.

Labor Code Now Goes to Commons

Final Amendment Broadens Scope of Those Excluded

OTTAWA, May 25.—(CP)—With one final amendment, the Commons industrial relations committee today completed revision of the Federal Labor Code and reported it up to the Commons for third reading.

The amendment broadened the definition of workers excluded from the bargaining provisions of the code. It would exempt all confidential employes. Originally, the code excluded as confidential only those whose work touched on labor relations.

The change was not opposed by Labor Minister Mitchell. It was adopted on a 10-6 vote.

Earlier, the committee rejected an attempt to write into the code specific protection for workers' pension rights in cases of strikes and illegal dismissals.

Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) introduced the amendment, but Labor Minister Mitchell objected to it on the ground it was a matter for collective bargaining rather than legislation.

LONG DEBATE

A long debate developed on the issue as the committee considered the code in preparation for its final reading in the commons.

Mr. Knowles said his proposal was aimed at preventing a repetition of the situation in the 1919 Winnipeg strike of Canadian Pacific railway employes, who lost pension rights over that walkout.

Mr. Knowles twice has introduced legislation to have the CPR employes reinstated in their pension rights. However, the amendment he proposed for the code would not be retroactive.

Mr. Knowles said he thought his amendment would meet objections that previously had been made to his proposed railway legislation.

His amendment would make it an unfair labor practice for an employer to "deny to any employe any pension rights or benefits to which he would otherwise be entitled by reason only of his ceasing to work as the result of a lockout or st[illegible] or by reason only of dismissal contrary to the code."

Mr. Knowles said the employes protection in strikes would apply only to legal strikes. Also, in cases of dismissal, it would only apply when such dismissal was contrary to the code.

NO PENSION GUARANTEE

Labor Minister Mitchell in answer to Daniel Mclvor (L—Fort William) claimed that it was impossible by legislation to guarantee pension payments in spite of strikes or lockouts. Companies he said, might go broke in the process.

The Knowles amendment, he said, was something which should be left to collective bargaining. Further he argued that a clause of this kind might make employers diffident about introducing pension plans.

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) charged that the minister had deliberately twisted the meaning of the word amendment. There was nothing which guaranteed the pension. The purpose was plain. If employes were going to be deprived of pension because of a strike, he was much better without a pension.

James Sinclair (L—Vancouver North) supported the Knowles amendment. He wanted it specified that an employer could not use pensions to prevent a legal strike.

WOULD MEAN SCRAPPING CODE

If this were to be left to collective bargaining, as the labor minister suggested, that might as well be carried to its logical conclusion, which would be the scrapping of the whole code.

Mr. Mitchell replied that he objected to getting the state mixed up in such matters. There was no substitute for collective bargaining, conducted with due regard to the economics of the industry involved. He was convinced companies would not use pension funds as clubs against employes.

C. E. Johnston (SC—Bow River) supported amendment as "clearly defining the rights of the employes."

On a vote, Mr. Knowles' amendment was defeated by an 11-7 majority.

Guelph Man Named Legion President

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Leonard Owen of Guelph, Ont., was elected Dominion president of the Imperial Division of the Canadian Legion at the concluding session of the division's three-day conference yesterday.

He succeeds C. L. Hall, of Ottawa, president for the past four years. Other officers: Arthur Randies, CBE, Montreal, first vice-president; E. H. Starr, Calgary, second vice-president; S. B. Wakefield, Ottawa, Dominion secretary; W. H. Coulterjohn, Trenton, Ont., treasurer.

412 LEGION VOTES SPLIT EXACTLY EVEN

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—It never happened before and it probably never will happen again.

The Canadian Legion convention came to a vote on a motion to have tourist camps included in provisions of the Veterans Land Act. A standing vote was taken. Whips went up and down the thick-packed ranks.

The vote was 206 to 206.

Chairman Jack Moore of St. Vital, Man., cast the deciding vote in favor of the motion. Grinning, he said it was his first vote in many a Legion convention.

Legion Asks Govt. To Await Its Report

By Douglas How

SASKATOON, May 25. — (CP) — The Canadian Legion's big, boisterous national convention gave a red light to parliament today. It roared its approval of a British Columbia motion asking the Commons committee on veterans affairs to delay decision on war veterans allowances until it had heard from the convention.

Members of the committee flew back to Ottawa last night after joining in the opening sessions. Criticism was expressed yesterday of the Legion Command's presentation of a request for higher allowances—a single ceiling of $50 a month instead of $40—to the committee.

The convention reiterated the demand for the higher levels

Delegates passed swiftly through a series of resolutions covering Rehabilitation, Veterans' Land Act and the Civil Service. A number urged improvements in VLA administration and law.

One asked that veterans be allowed to acquire homes in towns and cities, thus broadening the act from full-time farms and small holdings. Another asked that veterans be allowed to buy half-acres of land for small holdings.

Other resolutions asked:

That war widows or dependents be given the re-establishment credits their men would have received.

That a veteran's capital equity to a business be considered in setting up the one-third payment required under the Business Loans Act.

That machinery grants under VLA be increased because of rising costs.

That co-operative farm projects be included in VLA provisions.

That veterans preference in the civil service be extended to all government departments and crown companies.

That volunteer veterans who served in Canada only be given a civil service preference after those with overseas service.

That civil service salaries be made more nearly equal to those in industry and business.

COUNT SERVICE

The convention asked that overseas veterans be allowed to count their service towards seniority on being made permanent members of the civil service.

It asked, too, that rural mail carriers be appointed by the civil service commission. Another request was that the percentage of permanent civil service employes be increased generally.

Under training, delegates approved a request that allowances for both single and married student veterans be increased by $10 a month to $70 and $100 respectively. They urged that children of totally-disabled veterans or war widows be given the educational and training benefits accorded single veterans.

It was asked that pre-medical and pre-dental student veterans be allowed to withdraw from university at least three years at the completion of that training without jeopardizing their right to further training. Pre-medical students should be allowed to study outside Canada.

On employment, it resolved "that every possible effort be made by the governing bodies of Canada to prevent a recurrence of depression." It asked that veterans be given employment preference generally.

Troops at Churchill Battle for Survival

OTTAWA, May 25. — (CP) — The joint experimental station at Churchill is—at the moment—one of the last places in the world where Canadians are likely to be fighting anybody.

This fact emerged as self-evident last week-end during a flying trip by Defence Minister Claxton to the most important northern defence project of the Western powers. The minister was accompanied by Dr. O. M. Solandt, chief of the Defence Research Board, and a small group of newspaper men. They made a complete tour of the Hudson Bay proving ground manned by 500 Canadians and 250 Americans.

Claxton's first glimpse of Churchill caught an endless waste of black rock ridges, snow-flecked, with occasional patches of scrub trees and ice-filled lakes.

He found that 95 per cent of the waking hours of a man at this camp are spent in one basic project only—the struggle for survival.

NO ARMAMENTS

There are no armaments—as such—at Churchill. No atom bombs, slit trenches or modern fighting equipment; except occasional individual pieces brought in now and then to see how they react to cold weather.

The men at Churchill are bending their energies—working non-union hours of 100 or more a week—against one common enemy: The conditions.

They are, as Dr. Solandt reminded them, fighting a war against winds up to 40 miles an hour, temperatures hitting 40 below zero, endless expanses of rock which thaws only a foot or two in the hottest summer days and mush stretches of muskeg.

SUMMER NO BETTER

It's not much better in the summer. The rock and muskeg are still there, and in place of the cold come temperatures which may range as high as 90 degrees Fahrenheit; and the black flies and mosquitoes.

Considered an ideal spot for the testing of men and equipment in Arctic conditions, Churchill is the focus of practically all the Arctic research work being undertaken by Canada, the United States and Britain. Few British observers appear there because of the dollar shortage, but British acientists obtain the full benefit of Canadian-American experience.

Hogan To Battle Turnesa In Final

ST. LOUIS, May 25 —(AP)—Little Ben Hogan handed his fellow former Texan, Jimmy Demaret, a 2 and 1 setback for a birthday present and Mike Turnesa upset his favored neighbor, Claude Harmon, in a 37-hole tussle Monday in semi-final matches of the Professional Golfers' Association championship.

Turnesa, whose White Plains, N.Y., club is about three miles from Harmon's at Mamaroneck, N.Y., rallied to catch big Claude on the 35th and then beat him with a birdie three on the extra hole. It was Harmon's second overtime struggle in successive matches, as he had to go 42 holes to beat Sam Snead Sunday.

In the tussle of Texans, Hogan slaved off Demaret's late rally that twice squared the match, and finally won out by taking the 33rd and 34th holes in succession and halving the 35th.

Tuesday's 36-hole clash will be the second PGA final for Hogan, who won the title two years ago, and the first for Turnesa, although each has competed in six championship tournaments.

Irvin Undecided On Coaching Job

MONTREAL, May 25. — (CP) — Dick Irvin is pleased with the contract Montreal Canadiens have offered him to coach their 1948-49 NHL squad but he still is undecided whether he will take it.

The Montreal Standard quoted Irvin Saturday as saying in a long distance conversation from his home in Regina that he was pleased with the terms offered by Manager Frank Selke of the Habs to come back for another year but his delay in giving a yes-or-no answer was prompted by indecision whether "it's time to call it quits with hockey."

"There are no difficulties involved," said Irvin, "beyond my having to decide if 33 years as player and coach is enough active hockey for any man. My wife is lukewarm about another season apart—in our 17 years of married life we've really lived together only five years or so."

Bowling Interest High At Garneau

The Garneau Lawn Bowling Club was dotted with new faces as it opened its greens with three play-for-fun games Monday afternoon.

Boasting a 25-per-cent increase in new members, the club is having trouble getting necessary skippers to handle the many new rinks.

Tops in the three-game tourney Monday were H. G. Robertson, Jim Cox and Morley Sellers, who skipped their respective rinks to two out of three victories. Practice games will be played at Garneau on Thursday and Friday nights.

JOHNNY LONGDEN BOOTS IN FOUR MORE WINNERS

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 25. — (CP) — The veteran Johnny Longden booted home four winners Saturday including the favored On Trust in the $50,000 Golden State Breeders Handicap at Hollywood Park.

It was the second four-a-day performance for the former Calgary rider since Hollywood Park opened last Tuesday and boosted to 15 his winners for the five days.

Longden also finished in the money seven times in seven races. He had two seconds and a third.

Norwood Bowlers Swing Into Action

Members of the Norwood Lawn Bowling Club defied the big mosquito attack Monday morning as they officially opened the greens.

In the morning 48 players took part in a men's jitney. Winners of this competition were T. E. Goodwin, J. Wishart, J. J. Edwards and W. C. Pullybank.

J. Campbell, A. K. Smith, Mrs. McLean and F. J. Sandsbury defeated the winning rink in a mixed tourney played during the afternoon. Second place honors went to A. E. Goodwin, Mrs. Spillious, H. Wellon and J. Wilson. E. C. Munro, D. Macrae, Miss Ann Fuglsang and Hector Currie finished third.

Stymie's Earnings Jump To $846,760

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—There's still plenty of run in the old nag. Seven-year-old Stymie showed 41,693 customers at Belmont Park that Saturday when he closed with a rush to capture the 55th running of the mile Metropolitan Handicap.

The win, Stymie's first of the year after three losses, nudged him $21,200 closer to the $1,000,000 mark.

The one-time claimer who was picked up for $1,500 by Hirsch Jacobs, now has pushed his world record earnings to $846,760.

Percy Clogg Takes B.C. Golf Crown

VANCOUVER, May 25.—(CP)—Percy Clogg of Vancouver, 1947 city amateur golf champion, Monday added the British Columbia amateur championship to his trophy collection. He defeated Walt McAlpine of Vancouver 3 and 2 in the 36-hole final.

They'll Qualify For Pension Soon

HAMBURG, May 25.—(Reuters)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, now 43 years old, was outpointed by his 41-year-old compatriot Walter Neusel in 10 rounds Sunday.

BRITISH PAPER URGES DESERTER'S AMNESTY

LONDON, May 25.—(CP)—The Evening Standard, in an editorial today, urged the government to follow Canada's example by granting an amnesty to wartime deserters.

"The editorial said police believe some 60 per cent of current crimes in Britain's current wave are due to the activities of about 20,000 deserters "on the run."

"The majority of these men are far from being thugs or riffraff," the paper said. "They are men who could not stand the conditions of service life or who, when the fighting was done, had no tie strong enough to hold them from the temptation of Civvy Street."

"Clearly, we cannot continue forever to harbor a shadow army of 'illegals'," the Standard said, pointing out that Canada had granted an amnesty in 1946.

'Twas Really a Great Weekend for Us Edmontonians!

ALL EDMONTON enjoyed the first holiday week-end of the summer season Saturday to Monday, indulging in various types of recreation and entertainment. More than 10,000 Model T race fans saw Tommy Villetard speed to victory in the annual races to capture Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd. trophy.

HUNDREDS of city residents visited swimming pools, crowding into every available space of three pools. At South Side pool, these four free-style swimming artists take time out from the pool to enjoy the warm rays of the sun. Left to right are: Jean Salahul, Verna Deakin, Edna Dakin and Mrs. Edna Crockett.

New Threat Recalls Great Flood of 1915

By Jack DeLong

Ominous rise of the Saskatchewan river today recalls vividly to many oldtimers the great flood of June, 1915.

To a lesser degree the flooding of 1944 is also brought back to mind.

Those who lived in Edmonton in 1915 will never forget those terrible, anxious nights and days of June 27, 28 and 29.

Almost the entire flats sections on both the north and south sides of the river were under water as the Saskatchewan roared through the valley in record-breaking flood.

Water rise at the crest of the flood was 45 feet and two inches above normal low level for the year.

HUNDREDS FLED HOMES

Hundreds of families had to leave everything behind but the clothes they wore, and flee to higher ground before the surging flood waters.

Churches and public halls were crowded with refugees.

Boats and canoes could be sighted from the hilltops all over the flats.

Barns, logs, trees and small buildings floated down the river from farm lands far upstream. A cow calmly chewed her cud on the flat roof of one "sea-borne" barn and was later rescued.

At the crest of the flood the power house went out of commission when water poured into the engine rooms.

Electricity was off in all parts of the city for about 48 hours.

Street cars halted, street and house lighting was off and the water supply was endangered.

The Edmonton Bulletin published just the same with the aid of gasoline engines hastily installed to turn the presses.

FEARED FOR BRIDGE

It was feared for a time that the Low Level bridge would go out.

The sturdy concrete piers of the old span took a terrific pounding from water, logs, buildings and trees.

A string of box cars loaded with sand was shoved on the bridge to steady the structure. There was an engine on each end clear of the bridge with the couplings broken in the centre of the train.

The engineers had orders to steam away if the span started to buckle. Fortunately the bridge held.

Damage ran into the millions.

Lumber companies were particularly hard hit, the flood sweeping away thousands of cut logs and millions of feet of lumber from yards along the Saskatchewan.

CHILDREN EVACUATED

Scores of children in the old children's shelter had to be removed to places of safety in rowboats.

All baseball games were hurriedly "postponed" as old Diamond Park went under water.

Many homes in the flats had to be completely rebuilt because of the thorough soaking.

In the Mill Creek valley several small houses and shacks were completely covered by water.

Thousands of Edmontonians watched the scene from McDougall hill and other points of vantage.

No lives were lost.

FLOOD IN 1899

In the summer of 1899 the flats area was hit by a great flood, although the high water mark was four feet, two inches below the high of 1915.

At that time, too, there were comparatively few residences in the flats area.

In June of 1944 about 16 families in scattered sections of the flats were forced from their homes after the river rose 15 feet.

In addition many homes had flooded basements.

Villetard Carries Off Top Honors at Model 'T' Meet

Thousands See Edmonton Man Win Fourth Time

For the fourth consecutive year, driver Tommy Villetard won the annual Lions Club Model T races at Edmonton Exhibition grounds Monday afternoon.

The 34-year-old South Edmonton farmer had no trouble winning the 12 and one-half mile grand championship race of the afternoon when his only real rival burst into flames and withdrew from the field.

In the final race, entered by winners of the four previous races of the day, Villetard in the Dittrich Men's Shop car, and Len Jeffery in the Sunland Biscuit entry, raced nub-to-hub for several laps, far ahead of the other 10 cars on the track.

BURST INTO FLAMES

But the Sunland car burst into flames early in the race and was forced to withdraw.

Bystanders threw handfuls of dirt on the burning car in vain attempts to quell the flames. A nearby fire engine finally extinguished the blaze, pulling onto the track between zooming racers to get to the burning auto.

More than 10,000 Edmontonians attended the races, packing the exhibition grounds race track area to form one of the largest Edmonton crowds ever to attend a May 24 meet.

No serious accidents marred the sunny afternoon's racing. Only casualty was Lew Girard, driver of the Precision Machine auto, who suffered a cut head when his car overturned after the first race.

First four races were seven and one-half miles in length, 15 laps around the race tracks.

Final race, the grand championship, was 12 and one-half miles long, 25 laps around the track.

12 CARS IN FINAL

Total of 12 cars entered the final race, the win, place, and show winners of the first four races.

Second place in the last race was taken by Con Heighton in the Medico Welders' entry. Third was Don Jeglum, Wetaskiwin, driving Dench of Canada Car.

A total of 23 cars entered the Model T races, to compete for some $1,500 in prize money.

Winner Villetard got $275 and the Hudson's Bay Co. cup for his afternoon of dusty driving.

He is now permanent holder of the cup.

Prize money included $200 for his grand championship race win and $75 for taking second place in race No. 3.

In Race 3 he was beaten by the Sunland Biscuit car, the same one that caught fire and withdrew from the last race.

Villetard didn't have quite the same luck in his first race, No. 2 of the afternoon. His car's coils burned out in that race, and he was forced to pull out early in the running.

Commenting on the flaming Sunland car, Villetard told The Bulletin, "I was lucky that No. 17 (Sunland) conked out—darn lucky. I sure was surprised when I got out in front and stayed there."

COMPETE IN CALGARY

Villetard stated that he intends to enter the Alberta championship races in Calgary on Labor Day. He was grinning with optimism when interviewed by The Bulletin after his winning race Monday.

Judges for the Lions Club races were Douglas Thomson, Elmer Logan, M. S. "Dirk" Thomson, James Kellas.

General chairman of the races was W. A. Anderton, who is also first vice-president of the Edmonton Lions Club.

Other race committee members were: Gordon Smeltzer, race marshall; Wilson Faulder, finance chairman; Harry Ashton, publicity chairman; Maurice McNair, grounds chairman.

Alec Lepasco, 11212 9. street, was winner of the $50 watch which was drawn for from among audience members.

CARAVAN MOVE OFF FOR WHILE

Officials of the "On-to-Nelson" caravan, scheduled to leave Brandon Monday, have announced a two-week postponement of the motorcade.

The caravan is being staged to publicize the need for a southern route for the proposed Trans-Canada highway.

E. R. McFarland, president of the Lethbridge Chamber of Commerce, said the postponement was caused by "severe flood conditions" in British Columbia.

The caravan will leave Brandon June 7 and is scheduled to reach Nelson, B.C., June 10.

Council Faces Busy Session

City council tonight will be asked to approve local improvement construction work totaling $212,573.

The projects include approximately 11 miles of bituminous walks, two miles of concrete walks, and lane grading and gravelling.

Council's recent decision to grant flankage exemption of 85 per cent will apply to these projects.

Also to come before the council is a report from P. L. Pratley, consulting engineer, on the conversion of the High Level bridge from street car to trolley bus operation.

Council will be asked to vary a clause in the Highlands Golf Club land lease which would eliminate a provision that on termination of the lease the city would become owner of all improvements on the land.

City commissioners recommend the change.

Change in the traffic bylaw dealing with taxis parking in front of taxi offices on Jasper avenue between 106 and 96 streets, and on 101 street from Jasper avenue to 104 avenue will be considered.

Council will be asked to approve the recommendation of the recreation Commission that a community centre costing approximately $10,000 be erected on the playground located between 121 and 122 avenues and between 97 and 101 streets.

Easterner Heads Tuberculosis Vets

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Canon R. D. Mess of Chatham, Ont., has been elected Dominion president of the Tuberculosis Veterans' Section of the Canadian Legion, it was announced yesterday. Two days of deliberations went into a detailed discussion of TB cyst conditions. Canon Mess arranged to visit sanatoria at Prince Albert, Sask., Saskatoon, Calgary and Tranquille, B.C.

"Red" Activities

NANKING, May 25.—(AP)—Nanking garrison headquarters yesterday asked officials of Nanking and National Central universities to halt scheduled student mass meetings. It charged Communist fifth columnists were behind demonstrations here.

Mountie Band To Play Here

The band of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will begin a tour of Western Canada in Edmonton on June 8.

The personnel of the band will be brought to the city from Ottawa by RCAF North Star aircraft the evening of June 7, arriving at 6.45 p.m.

The band will parade in downtown Edmonton and play for two concerts while in the city.

The parade, beginning at 11.30 a.m. June 8, will start at the corner of Jasper and 107 street.

Its route will follow Jasper avenue to the RCMP barracks at 101A avenue.

A free concert will be played before the grandstand at the Exhibition grounds at 8 p.m. the same day.

A concert for patients of the Colonel Mewburn hospital will be performed at 2.30 p.m. June 9.

From Edmonton the band will go to Red Deer where it will play en route to Calgary.

Other Alberta points in the itinerary are: Calgary, June 10-12; High River, McLeod, June 13; Lethbridge, June 13-16, Medicine Hat, June 16-18.

Edmonton Girl Wins Honors

A $250 scholarship has been awarded to an Edmonton girl.

Winner of the award is Blanche A. Irvine.

The scholarship, along with three others to Calgary girls, was announced by the Alberta Library Board.

It will be used for library studies at either McGill or Toronto Universities.

Ralston's Death Mourned By Legion

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—The Canadian Legion national convention, by resolution yesterday expressed its shock and sense of loss at the death of Col. J. L. Ralston, D.S.O., former defence minister.

He was described as "a staunch friend of all ex-servicemen."

17 Persons Hurt

Yeggs Rob Safeway Store, Arrests Made

Yeggs blasted a wall safe in the Highlands Safeway store early Sunday morning in one of two attempted week-end robberies.

It was the second robbery of a branch store of the firm within a week.

Two suspects have been arrested by police.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to blow a safe in the office of Crane Ltd., 109 street and Jasper.

Under arrest on charges of being in possession of burglar tools are John Abbott and John Byrne, both with no fixed address.

Safeway officials declined to reveal the amount of money obtained by the bandits, but it is believed to be more than $1,000.

Police said they believed a liquid explosive was used to smash into the strong box.

The safe, about 16 inches in diameter by 16 inches long, was set in a concrete block in the wall of the store.

Entry to the store was gained by breaking a window.

Safeway store at 115 street and Jasper was robbed of $1,400 early Wednesday morning.

Police said the unsuccessful bandits who raided Cranes gained entry through a basement window.

The dial was knocked from the safe but the would-be thieves failed to open its door.

Police said the two suspects were arrested Sunday near 117 street and 106 avenue where burglar tools had been found earlier.

Both of the accused have police records, police revealed and are well known to them.

Salad-Lovers Need King-Size Incomes

By Bea Thrifty

Well everyone is sun-tanned and sun-soaked after this holiday week-end.

Now after a lazy two days it's back to the glue factory for husbands and working gals—back to the kitchen for Madame Housewife.

Same Madame Housewife is shaking the head sadly over the havoc in the budget.

"Let them eat salads!" was her song as she made out the week-end marketing list.

But now she's singing budget blues—one light salad—the lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers variety—cost $1.48—and for only a family of four.

* * *

That all adds up to mean that it'll be a long, long time before average income families can afford to eat many salads.

* * *

Goody-goody gum-drops—and it's sliced pineapple back from the wars.

Price is a mite high—but what prices aren't?

You can buy a whole tin—20 ounces—for 37c.

This is something a lot of people have been waiting for—and I'm right at the top of the list.

* * *

First thing I'm going to do is eat a great huge dish of the favorite fruit—and then I'm going to whip up a pineapple upside down cake . . . can hardly wait.

* * *

Then of course there's crushed pineapple—which has been available for some time—but is still one of the most important ingredients in a host of wonderful desserts.

* * *

Fresh-frozen raspberries are sliding down the price scale from 41c per 16 ounce cup to 35c.

Delicious flavor combination—and delightful color effect—is raspberries on maple ice cream, try it.

* * *

Plastic picnic dishes are wonderful affairs to own . . . for garden suppers . . . picnic lunches . . . or for the children to use at home . . . They are colorful, not easily broken and inexpensive.

A set for the lake cottage would be ideal.

* * *

Here's a real summer temptation. It's strawberry meringue tarts. Put the filling—vanilla pudding—into meringue shells. Then top with whipped egg white—into which a handful of strawberries has been beaten.

Top this frothy concoction with more strawberries and sugar . . . and good too.

* * *

Noticed that pitted dates are a teensy-weensy bit less expensive than they were a month ago. Now you can buy them for 30c—it used to be 35c.

Noticed this while mulling over the idea of making a matrimonial date cake . . . always good and always a treat for sweet-tooth family.

* * *

Week-end showed signs of shortage days—when you had to go to at least half a dozen stores before you could buy a loaf of bread, an ice cream cone or even a bottle of coke.

Hovis bread—a must with things like spaghetti, salads, can be had for 13c. Many people think this tasty, course, brown bread is more expensive—but it isn't.

St. Faith's Bridal Scene

Spring flowers decorated St. Faith's Anglican Church Saturday at 7 p.m. when Alice Louise Ratcliff, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Ratcliffe of Edmonton, became the bride of Robert Lloyd Dunbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dunbar of Calmar.

Rev. L. M. Watts performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white satin gown fashioned with long illy-point sleeves, the full skirt terminating in a slight train. Her veil fell softly from a beaded headdress and she carried a shower bouquet of roses.

Mrs. H. E. MacWhirter, sister of the bridegroom, was matron-of-honor.

Jack Ratcliff, brother of the bride, was best man and ushers were Mac MacWhirter and Arthur Ratcliff.

Wilma Van Deelan played the wedding music.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Cottage Tea Room where the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by bouquets of spring flowers.

Alan Young proposed the toast to the bride.

After a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will live in Edmonton. The bride wore for travelling a gray flowered dress with brown accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Grad Pharmacists Feted At Luncheon

Graduating Pharmacy students from the University of Alberta were entertained at a breakfast meeting in the Macdonald Hotel recently. Host was the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association.

W. H. Sprague, council member for Edmonton and Association's representative on the School of Pharmacy, was chairman. He offered congratulations to graduating students.

Alberta Pharmaceutical Association's gold medal in the diploma course and the N. G. McDermid prize in pharmacy were presented to J. W. Altilio. Dr. J. J. Ower, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, made the presentation.

Diplomas to graduates in the licentiate course were presented by G. B. Taylor, registrar.

C. G. Torrence, vice-president of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association introduced C. W. Pickup, registrar-treasurer of the association. Copies of Ethics of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association were presented to all graduates by Mr. Torrence and Mr. Pickup.

Dr. M. J. Huston, director of the School of Pharmacy wished success to all graduates on behalf of the school.

If you vacation at home, you may want to spend some time at a nearby swimming pool, as Actress Marguerite Chapman is doing above.

WHY GROW OLD

Vacations at Home Save Energy, Funds

By Josephine Lowman

A vacation at home is sometimes the very best thing that can happen to you! If your energy and budget make going away from home a strain, why not take your vacation in your own town, house and back yard?

If a vacation pushes you financially it is not much fun, that is, unless you have a robust constitution and a grand sense of humor. Then it can be a riot and extremely satisfactory!

If you take your vacation at home your first luxury will be pushing in the button on the alarm clock before going to sleep at night. If your vacation at home is to mean anything you must get a change of pace even though you do not leave the premises.

You will have time for the things you never have a minute for when you are working. You can lie in your back yard and take your sun baths, work on some hobby, sleep late and catch up on reading. For a small percentage of the money you would have spent on a trip, you can get a maid for two weeks. This is a special luxury for the maidless household where there are small children.

Husband and wife will enjoy loafing together and having their dinner served and their young darlings taken off their necks for a time. If the children are older they will enter into the idea of giving mother and father a vacation at home and can pitch in and help and even give up some of their usual activities for a short time.

A little equipment in games will add to this time at home. Buy a ping-pong table or some horse shoes to throw or some of the indoor games which are so much fun to play. Take the time for relaxation and companionship with your family which is different from the hectic kind you grab on working days.

If you like outdoor sports you will have more time to enjoy them but beware of throwing yourself into them too strenuously because this can be dangerous to health, and sometimes even to life.

If you want to take a camping vacation nearby I think my leaflet, "Tricks In Camping" would be helpful. If you wish to have it send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 69 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Mother Advises Girl Against Going Steady

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl 18 years old, holding a good secretarial position. Have been going with a boy for about a year and am very much in love with him, but my mother objects to my going with him to the exclusion of all other men, as it will be a long time before he will be in a position to marry me.

She nags me constantly about this "steady company" business. Now, don't you think I am old enough to know my own mind?

NELL H.

ANSWER: I agree with you that mothers shouldn't nag their daughters, and that the main reason that girls don't listen to their mother's advice is that mothers can never say a thing once and let it go at that.

They keep on harping on the same string until they get on their children's nerves, and that makes them stubborn and feel as if they would rather die than give in.

But in your case, my dear, I think your mother is right in advising you not to give up all the other boys and devote yourself exclusively to this boy when you are not even engaged to him and it will be years and years before he could marry you. After a while you may tire of him, or he may tire of you.

You may outgrow him, or he may outgrow you. Or he may go away to seek his fortune, and where will you be then if you have let him monopolize you?

DISMAL FUTURE

You will be left forlorn and stranded and it will be pretty hard to get back into the old circle with the old boys.

I think a girl is just naturally lacking in good, hard, horse sense who gives up going with other men until her wedding day is in sight.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Soft, Warm Cereal First Solid Food For Baby

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The first food a baby gets will be one spoonful of a soft, warm food which will go down almost as easily as a spoonful of milk.

This food may be a pre-cooked baby cereal, or one of the finely-sieved vegetable or fruit preparations to be had in cans.

The cereal contains more nourishment, per spoonful, than the other two, and it is possible that just at this time the child may be dissatisfied with his formula and the extra calories will be just what he needs.

Cereal can be given along with the 10 a.m. and the 6 p.m. feedings, or at meals which come approximately at those hours. Just one teaspoon as a beginning, so that the mother has an opportunity to judge the baby's reaction to it. Most cereals contain wheat and wheat is one of the common foods to which a small percentage of babies are personally sensitive.

Dilute the spoonful with some of the milk formula as it will slip down easily, and pick up small portions of this one teaspoonful on the end of a small spoon and feed to baby.

The baby's tongue, in the early months, has the habit of thrusting outward when anything gets into the mouth. This habit ends as the baby grows. But, just at first, it will make feeding very difficult. The mother is inclined to evaluate the baby's actions as those of distaste and she says, "He doesn't like cereal."

The chances are great that he is eager for the cereal but he doesn't know how to accept blobs of it in his mouth and swallow them. Keep on putting the cereal into the mouth, rather far back on the tongue to make use of the swallowing reflex and then if the baby grows irritable and isn't able to swallow, stop for a few days or a week. Even a week or so may make a great difference in the growth of his capacity to swallow thick foods.

Ralph, 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Oakes, of 11404 94 street.

Once it has been established that cereal does not disturb him and he can eat and swallow without difficulty, then the amount may be increased cautiously until he is getting as much as he wants. But this amount should be kept low enough so baby has an appetite for his bottle immediately afterwards.

Our leaflet No. 22, "Formula and Early Feeding," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

New Home-Makers Turn To Antique Furnishings

Young Canadians setting up their own homes for the first time are turning more and more to antiques. The antique dealers say they've become some of their best customers.

Young couples can't afford to buy a genuine Adam pine cupboard for 800 dollars. But they can and do pick up commodes, old copper coal scuttles and other miscellaneous items to use in a corner of a modern home.

And so dealers and onlookers argue one question.

When is an antique a treasure and when is it a piece of junk?

Here are a few good antique ideas. Some of them might already be in use in your own home. A little ingenuity and a few antiques add interest to many a dull corner in a home.

Old-fashioned sleds are favorites for use as coffee tables. The best are those with the centre panels painted red. If the sled is too low to make a handy coffee table, mount it on a second runner to add a few inches.

An old copper coal skuttle makes a fine container for kindling by the fireplace. And how about a leather bucket—used back in the days of the bucket brigade—polished and used as a waste basket?

There's even a use for the old carriage seat tossed up in the barn loft at the farm. Mounted on a base to make it the right height and with cushions added for comfort—the carriage seat is used in a hall or living room or in a fireplace nook.

If there's an old coffee grinder in the family—you can paint it and add a cherry wood round top and you have an ideal coffee table worth about $75.

THE HOUSE OF PERSONALIZED SERVICE
One Block West of Post Office

The year was 1841 . . .

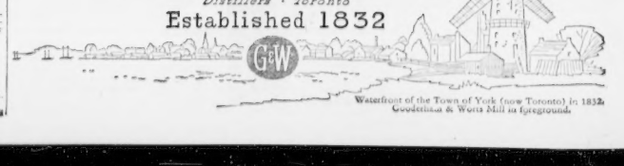

. . . six days of turmoil—that was election week in Upper Canada! Voters formed in long queues to mount the "hustings" (a rough wooden platform) . . . declaring aloud for all to hear, "I vote for John Smith." Often groups of hard-fisted toughs stood by, armed with cudgels to be used on those who voted the "wrong way."

But men who kept true democracy as their objective finally won the right of a secret ballot—the right to vote as you wish without fear of intimidation.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Field Representative Visits Local Sorority

Beta Sigma Phi Holds Convention Holiday Weekend; 160 Attend

Message from international office of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was brought to the Edmonton chapter by Mrs. E. Paris Zehntbauer.

A member of the international field staff for the northwest region, she attended the first Alberta convention during the week-end.

Delegates from the 13 Alberta chapters attended the meeting.

Founded in 1931 by Walter C. Ross, Beta Sigma Phi has 2,600 chapters with a membership of 65,000, stated Mrs. Zehntbauer.

Continuing, she said that the purpose of the sorority was to give young women social contact with other young women and the desire to devote themselves to cultural living with the ultimate aim of making an art of living.

A frequent Canadian visitor, this was Mrs. Zehntbauer's first trip as international field representative. She travels through Alberta, British Columbia, Washington and Oregon visiting Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

Headquarters of the sorority are in Kansas, while chapters are in the United States, Canada, England, Scotland, Hawaii and Alaska.

From Edmonton Mrs. Zehntbauer will travel to Seattle where she will attend the Pacific West Convention June 4th and 5th.

At a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's table was set with a three-tier wedding cake embedded in Sweetheart roses. Father C. J. Foran proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip to Banff the bride travelled in a black gabardine suit complemented with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will reside at 8902 100 street.

"Plain Janes" Use Make-Up Artistry

CHESTERFIELD, England, May 25.—(CP)—Lessons in using cosmetics make "Plain Janes" unhappy and pretty girls conceited, the Archdeacon of Chesterfield wrote in his parish magazine.

Opposing plans for introducing "glamor" instruction in schools, Venerable T. Dilworth-Harrison wrote that one danger would lie with the "frustrated female who may glean some inverted satisfaction by assisting her pupils to succeed where she has failed."

CAC Protests Costly Shoes

High prices and low quality in children's shoes were protested at a recent meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers at the home of Mrs. A. C. Emery.

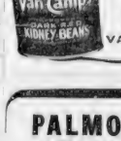

It was agreed by members that strong representation be made to manufacturers to rectify the situation in regard to children's shoes.

It was also resolved that the government be approached to hold prices at least at the present level.

A night letter sent to the national executive secretary of the CAC stressed that Finance Minister Abbott clarify his statement that repeal of the 8 per cent sales tax might not be reflected in consumer food prices. The group insisted on consumer benefit by government order, if necessary.

Mrs. F. Conroy reported 30,000 CAC members across Canada.

Marion Tait Vassar Dean

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. May 25 —(AP)—Marion Tait, 37-year-old Canadian-born associate professor of Greek and Latin at Mt. Holyoke College, was named yesterday as dean of Vassar College effective July 1.

She will succeed Dean C. Mildred Thompson, who is retiring after 25 years in the post.

Miss Tait has been a faculty member at Mt. Holyoke at South Hadley, Mass., since 1941. She served there as director of an experimental studies plan for selected students.

Born in Saskatoon, Sask., Miss Tait is a graduate of the University of Toronto. She received her Ph D in 1939 from Bryn Mawr College and held a scholarship from that school which enabled her to study at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens and the American Academy in Rome.

From 1938 to 1940 she was an instructor at Bryn Mawr, and, in 1940-41, at Sweet Briar College.

Use This Glossary For Quick Reference

By William E. McKenney

This is the second of three articles giving you a glossary of the terms used in bridge. Clip them out so that you can refer to them when you run across a term that you do not understand.

Guarded—A guarded card is one so accompanied by other cards of the same suit that it cannot be captured. A guarded suit is one containing a guarded card or cards.

Holding Up—Refusing to play a winning card so as to use it on a later trick.

Informatory Double—One made to give information rather than to double the value of undertricks. See Business.

Initial Lead—First lead made by the player at declarer's left.

Insufficient Bid—One which fails to specify either a higher-valued suit or a greater number of tricks than the suit or number named in the last previous bid.

Jump—To make a bid one level higher than necessary over partner's bid.

Kill—High cards in a suit are "killed" when they are led through and captured.

Lead-directing Bid—One made to direct the partner in case the opponents get the contract.

Major Suit—Hearts or spades.

Master Card—Highest unplayed card of a suit.

Minor Suit—Diamonds or clubs.

Odd Tricks—Tricks won by declarer after he has won six tricks.

Princess Thanks Legion For Food

SASKATOON, May 25.— (CP) — A recent bride thanked the Canadian Legion yesterday for "a very handsome" wedding present she personally never got.

Princess Elizabeth, in a letter read to the Legion's 12th national convention by the Governor-General, said its present of thousands of food parcels for the British people had given her "very special pleasure."

Horse Killed

SPAVELY, Alta., May 25.— (CP) — A horse in the barn on the farm of H. Greffen, east of Parkland, Alta., was killed when struck by lightning last Friday. Mr. Greffen's home also was struck but no one was injured.

Pianola Hand—One requiring little or no skill to play.

Post-mortem—Discussion of a hand after it has been played.

Pre-emptive Bid—A bid designed to shut out other bids.

Preference Bid—A bid made to show preference for one suit over another, rather than strength on case partner has bid two suits.

Protected Suit—One containing an ace or guarded high card.

Push—To overbid for the purpose of inducing the opponents to assume a losing contract.

Quick Trick—A card, or combination of cards, which will win on the first or second round.

Rebid—A second (higher) bid of player's own long suit.

Re-entry—A card which will take a trick and enable a player to regain the lead.

Rescue—To take out partner whose bid seems likely to result badly, or to bid another suit after partner's bid has been doubled.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

ON A THREE-DAY informal visit to Canada, the U.S. navy submarine Piper is shown as she moved up the Halifax, N.S., harbor to her berth. One of the latest built by the U.S. during the war, the 1,500-ton submarine is commanded by Cmdr. A. K. Tyree.

Arabs Are Not Expected To Heed Appeal for Peace

By Norman Allstedter

LAKE SUCCESS, May 25.—(CP)—Hopes were low today that Arab states will use a 48-hour extension granted by the United Nations Security Council to accept a cease-fire appeal.

The seven-member Arab League requested and received last night an extension on the deadline of a "stopwar" call from the council. The appeal had been accepted by Israel, whose authorities reported, however, that Arab forces were firing in the Holy Land one-half hour after the deadline of 11 a.m. CDT, Monday.

The political committee of the Arab League meets today in Amman, Trans-Jordan to consult on the council appeal. Zionist representatives indicated that Israel will accept the new deadline of noon CDT Wednesday.

NO BACKING-DOWN

But there was no indication from Arab quarters that they will back down from their demand that Jews abandon their project of a state in the Holy Land. The Jews will not accept this condition.

The council takes an anxious day off today, reconvening at 9:30 a.m. CDT Wednesday with the questions of India-Pakistan and Czechoslovakia, as well as Palestine, on the agenda.

For a solid five hours the council tangled with the Czechoslovakian question.

Russia's Andrei Gromyko finally exercised his country's 24th and 25th vetoes to block further consideration of Chile's demand that the council investigate Russia's role in the February grab of power by the Communists in Prague.

American delegate Warren R. Austin immediately blasted Russia with the charge of trying to hide the facts of the Czech case. He promised to gather statements for the council from Czech refugees in the United States and the American zone of Germany.

PRISONERS' SKIN SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

WHEELING, W. Va., May 25.—(AP)—The skin from six prisoners in a West Virginia penitentiary may have saved the life of a badly burned 11-year-old girl. The six were selected from a long list of volunteers after doctors at North Wheeling hospital reported the skin for grafting was needed for Lillie Anderson, critically burned in a fire at her home last January. The skin was taken from the prisoners at the penitentiary and rushed to the hospital. Hospital authorities reported the child's condition is good today.

Radio Moscow Backs Wallace

LONDON, May 25. —(BUP)—Radio Moscow said today that a "great mass of Americans were tremendously impressed" by Premier Josef Stalin's ideas on international peace expounded in his recent exchange of open letters with third-party presidential candidate Henry Wallace.

The broadcast said "there was not a corner in America where supporters of Henry Wallace were not batted in one way or another" but that his presidential campaign "was proceeding most satisfactorily."

"MONOPOLIES OPPOSED"

An English language commentator said millions of ordinary Americans wanted a settlement of differences between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"Millions of trade unionists and farmers, men and women, whites and negroes, are opposed to the imperialistic policies of American monopolies which seek world domination," the commentator said.

"That is why, in spite of glaring reactionary propaganda, in spite of threats and coercion, millions of Americans are attracted to progressive ideas and have given active support to leaders of the progressive movement."

Machine Detects Carbon Monoxide Gas

CHICAGO, May 25.—(AP)—Development of a small machine about the size of a portable radio that can detect tiny quantities of deadly carbon monoxide gas in the air was announced Saturday. The machine registers the amount of gas on a meter. It also has an electric warning system.

Rain "Too Much"

PORTLAND, Me., May 25.—(AP)—A note saying "this rain has got me down," was found Saturday near the body of Marlow McKenney, 50, in his gas-filled room. Rain has fallen here for 13 successive days.

Deaths Yesterday

By The Canadian Press

New York—Oakleigh Thorne, 81, financier, and a figure in some of wall street's bitter struggles in the early 1900's.

New York—John Kirk, 86, veteran actor who created the role of the judge in the Broadway hit Harvey.

Tokyo—Dr. Tatsukichi Minaore, 75, former Japanese privy councillor whose pre-war books on the Japanese constitution were banned because of his liberal views on the emperor system.

Copenhagen—Li Torulp, 57, Chinese minister to Denmark.

Ottawa—Charles Ernest Wilcox, former RCMP superintendent who served with the Siberian squadron during the first world war.

POOR GIRLS MUST WEAR PETTICOATS

NEWARK, N.J., May 25.—(AP)—There'll be no transparent skirts on Newark waitresses—or, if there are there will be petticoats under them.

That's the word from public safety director John B. Keenan.

A hotel planned to use "five or six" shapely waitresses wearing transparent skirts in a new cocktail lounge. The state alcoholic beverage control authorities said they didn't care.

But Keenan said:

"I'm not inferring that the . . . show—and it is just that—is in any way indecent. But it cannot help but create a police problem ,and we have enough of them now."

Said the hotel:

"We'll get petticoats for them. The girls will be fully clothed."

Women To Answer Nearly Forgotten Murder Charges

YORKTON, Sask., May 25.—(CP)—Two nearly-forgotten murder charges—one dating back 25 years, the other 15 years—will be revived at the next sitting of King's Bench Court here.

Two women will stand trial for the murder of their husbands. Both were found unfit to stand trial and committed to mental homes. They since have been discharged and now must stand trial.

The women are Hattie Ordinall, originally accused in 1924, and Nettie Thomas, charged in 1934.

Many of the witnesses have died, and others must come thousands of miles for the trials, which begin June 8.

Hattie Ordinall is accused of killing her husband, Peter, with a shotgun near Pelly in 1923. Nettie Thomas is accused of shooting her husband, Charles, at Sturgis in 1933.

Closer Relations Aim Of Imperials

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—With an estimated 86,000 Imperial army veterans already members of the Canadian Legion across Canada, the Imperial veterans' division is seeking to consolidate these veterans into a separate section and to obtain greater representation on provincial and national council.

Ways and means were discussed at the convention of the Imperial division which opened here Saturday, in connection with the National Legion convention.

The division also is seeking establishment of a national fund—now carried on voluntarily—to help Imperial veterans in need.

It was proposed to ask provincial and national commands to contribute to the fund on the basis of Imperial membership in the Legion, and provincial representatives were asked to canvass branches to determine the number of Imperials in the legion.

President Cecil L. Hall said Imperial representation in the Legion would increase to from 200,000 to 400,000 within the next 10 years as a result of immigration.

Legion's Branches Warned of 'Reds'

President Urges Watchfulness At Dominion Convention

By Douglas How

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—The chief of the Canadian Legion told its 12th biennial national convention yesterday that Communist activities within its branches "must be closely watched."

Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price, presenting his presidential report in a packed, flag-draped naval barracks before nearly 1,000 delegates, sounded that note on an issue that may later develop into controversy.

The convention will be confronted with one prolonged resolution asking the government to "explore fully the possibility of curbing subversive Communist activities by legislative enactment without, at the same time, unduly curbing our normal civil liberties."

DEPORTATION FOR REDS

The resolution will also ask the deportation of foreign-born Communists except those on foreign government services.

The presidential report was one segment of the program that swung the delegates off on four days of deliberations. Other developments:

1—Veterans Minister Gregg called upon the Legion to seek greater social security for all Canadians, veterans and non-veterans alike.

2—Vociferous approval of the stand for a $50 instead of $40 ceiling on war veterans' allowances—paid aged and needy veterans—came after delegates declared that anything less was insufficient "to keep body and soul together."

Peter Herr of Victoria rapped the Legion command for an inadequate presentation of its case to parliament on this point, and suggested that a special delegation fly to Ottawa to put it over.

PRAISES SUPPORT

Maj. Leslie Mutch, Liberal member of parliament for Winnipeg South, chairman of the commons committee on veterans affairs, speaking for the 15 members attending the convention, said the committee was "proud of what we have been able to do for veterans" and paid tribute to "the loyal and consistent support" of the Legion.

Gen. Price declared: "Our constitution definitely bars Communists from membership. Nevertheless, here and there we find evidence that veterans who belong to a Communist organization have been accepted into membership. This no doubt has been due to the Communist tactics of confusing the public mind by changing the party name.

"Their activities must be closely watched lest, amidst the confusion they cause, they seize control and reduce the branch to a state of impotence."

The Legion was developing a program of citizenship training. Educational committees had been established in each province.

On defence, Gen. Price said "the Dominion Council has stressed the necessity for an adequate defence policy to the government and has sought to arouse our own members and the public to a sense of responsibility."

IMMIGRATION URGED

Canada needed a larger population, said immigrants from the British Isles were especially desirable.

The convention approved the 25-per-cent increase in basic pension rates granted by the government. It also congratulated the Legion command for the "able presentation of its case for 25-per-cent which compelled the government to retreat from one position after another until this and most of our other basic submissions were allowed."

It instructed the command to "keep the situations constantly under review in the light of the present unstable cost of living." Fifteen resolutions for changes in pension law or administration were passed.

Thus ranged from a request that all dependent children of pensioners be paid at orphan rates to a request that appeal boards of the pension commission sit more often in the west and the Maritimes.

RESOLUTION BEATEN

An effort to get veterans' rehabilitation benefits for wartime merchant seamen and transport command ferry pilots was beaten down on a standing vote.

The convention approved, however, a recommendation urging the benefits be extended to overseas firefighters.

After the intervention of Carl Heckbert of Vermilion, Alberta's Legion head, it defeated a resolution asking the government to consider aid for veterans whose farms have been damaged by floods. It was Mr. Heckbert's contention that such requests would only injure appeals for more important measures.

Among the bugeorous resolutions passed were these:

That hospital treatment be extended to indigent veterans generally instead of merely to pensioners. It was announced that the government will provide shortly for inclusion of recipients of war veterans' allowances.

That widows and orphan children of veterans be given medical and dental care.

That qualified chiropractors be allowed to treat veterans under government regulations, and that physicians of the osteopathic school of medicine be allowed to do likewise.

That the government study establishment of a factory for manufacturing artificial limbs in western Canada.

SOAP-BOX RACE MAY BE ANSWER

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Lucy Evans is going to the soap-box derby trials here Friday night—but as a detective, not as a fan.

She reports it to police today someone had stolen the four wheels from a baby carriage parked on her verandah.

City Man Named As Vice-President Of Teachers' Group

CALGARY, May 25.—(CP)—Instructors of Industrial Arts and Technical Electives in Alberta will meet under a new name at their next provincial conference.

About 80 delegates attending a conference here Saturday, voted to change the name of their organization from Instructors of Industrial Arts and Technical Electives to Industrial Education Teachers of Alberta.

Included in the new list of officers elected Saturday are president, J. P. Liebe, Lethbridge, vice-president, W. E. Robinson, Edmonton; secretary-treasurer, A. E. Knothuch, Calgary. Elected to the executive were Hal Whitney, Medicine Hat; M. Cliff, Calgary; J. Pollock, Red Deer; R. Marsh, Leduc; W. W. Barker, Waskatenau, and R. Hoover, Didsbury.

Calgary District Singers Triumph

CALGARY, May 25.—(CP)—Calgary and district artists swept all classes in the final sessions of the Alberta Music Festival here Saturday. Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat pianists and vocalists, who had managed to win a number of competitions during the week-long festival, failed to finish among the first three in any event on the final day.

Blaine Chapman of Strathmore won the Sheuly challenge cup in the open baritone or bass class with fine renditions of Bengdel's "Revenge Timotheus Cries" and "The Roadside Fire" by R. V. Williams.

Monica Engle of Calgary was awarded the $100 Hamilton Memorial scholarship donated by the Edmonton Musical Women's Club. Festival awards will be presented at a special ceremony here Wednesday.

Vice-Regal Party Warmly Welcomed

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Throngs of smiling people, gaily-decorated streets and brilliant sunshine Sunday combined to welcome Governor-General Viscount Alexander and Lady Alexander to Saskatoon.

The governor-general's party, here for Sunday's opening of the Canadian Legion's national convention, was welcomed by Lt.-Col. Alan Embury, chairman of the provincial command; Maj.-Gen. C. B. Price, national president of the Canadian Legion; Brig. Alex Ross, chairman of the convention committee; Veterans' Minister M. F. Gregg and Mayor Angus MacPherson of Saskatoon.

After inspecting the composite guard of honor, Viscount Alexander left to visit the DVA hospital and then on to the RCAF station, for 5 service and civilian investiture.

Legislators Pay Ralston Tribute

OTTAWA, May 25.—(CP)—The legislative business of the nation was stilled briefly yesterday in tribute to Col. J. L. Ralston.

Setting precedent, the Commons cut into its working agenda to hear members from all corners of the House extol the qualities of the wartime defence minister who died at Montreal Friday night.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said Canada had "lost one of her finest men."

King said he never had known a more unselfish and self-sacrificing public servant.

HOUSEBREAKER EVEN LOCKED HIMSELF UP

NORTHAMPTON, England, May 25.—(AP)—"My goodness, who are you?" tiny, 68-year-old Mrs. Florence Mustill asked the tall stranger she discovered in her house.

"I'm a burglar," John Morgan, 24, replied politely.

"Well," said Mrs. Mustill, "I'm sorry but of course, I must telephone the police."

"Oh, that's all right," said Morgan. "I'll go along to the police station myself."

Said the judge: "It is in the public interest that when someone caught housebreaking behaves properly it should be taken into account."

Sentence: one year.

CANADA'S QUEEN of the blades, Barbara Ann Scott, had herself a busy time at Washington, D.C., when she was an honorary scorer for Bing Crosby at the second annual Celebrities Golf Tournament. Before the show started, Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy entertained the crowd, and delighted Margaret Truman, shaking hands with Charlie and Barbara Ann.

Cordell Hull in Memoirs Praises King and Canada

TORONTO, May 25.—(CP)—Canada is "one of the countries that have practised in a model way the rules governing the right living together of nations," Cordell Hull, former United States secretary of state, writes in his memoirs, published today.

Canada is mentioned a score of times in the two volumes and 1,805 pages of "The Memoirs of Cordell Hull." (The Macmillan Company).

Most of the memoirs, called among the most important of our time" by American reviewers, are devoted to the period 1933-1944 when Mr. Hull was a member of Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet.

"No sector of our foreign policy gave me more satisfaction or brought more fruitful results than our relations with Canada," he says. In 1933 co-operation between the two countries had sagged to a low point. By 1944 they had built a solid economic relationship, had assured their 'strategic interdependence" through the permanent joint defence board, and "our relations in general had increased in extent and importance. . .

"The masterly leadership and sincere friendship of Canada's true statesman, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, contributed enormously to revitalizing the relations between the two countries."

Mr. Hull also writes that Canada under the "brilliant leadership" of Mr. King "was of immense assistance" to both Britain and the United States in relations between them.

The U.S. was careful to recognize Canada as a completely sovereign and independent nation. . . ."

Mr. Hull found Mr. King "a very serious-minded person, thoroughly agreeable in his relations with others, philosophical, unpretentious, and acutely liberal. . . . I never knew a more unselfish patriot or a man who loved humanity more."

Press Factor In Expose

SAINT JOHN, N.B., May 25. — (CP)—The Saint John Children's Aid Society is "headed in the right direction" in efforts to halt the baby black market operating out of the city, President Travis W. Cushing said last night.

Mr. Cushing, who presided at the meeting of the society which disclosed operation of the international baby market last Thursday, said the press had been the "chief factor" in bringing the matter to public attention.

"The press had brought the thing to a point where something more victorious is being done," he said. "We think we are headed in the right direction now."

The society had not yet heard from Premier John B. McNair on its request for a meeting with him on the matter, Mr. McNair also is New Brunswick attorney general.

Engineer Group Honors Two Men Working In Alberta

TORONTO, May 25.—(CP)—The Engineering Institute of Canada has announced that P. L. Pratley of Montreal and P. M. Sauder of Strathmore, Alta., are 1947 winners of the Julian C. Smith medals "for achievement in the development of Canada."

Pratley is a consulting engineer and Sauder is general manager of the Eastern Irrigation district of Alberta.

Awards will be presented at the annual general and professional meeting in Banff, June 1-5.

Youth Killed

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Alana Schindel, 17, of the Sutherland district, near Saskatoon, is dead, and four others from the same district are in hospital here as the result of a truck and car collision Saturday night near Saskatoon.

Bomb Threat Fails

BOSTON, May 25.—(AP)—A telephone threat that the British consulate was going to be bombed Monday afternoon sent police squad cars rushing to the office. A search failed to uncover anything unusual.

Ideal Weather Marks Holiday

General Across Canada Except in the Maritimes

By The Canadian Press

Bright, sunny weather which drew thousands to holiday spots, ball parks, races and beaches made the May 24 holiday week-end a pleasant one for most Canadians. Only in some parts of the Maritimes did rain spoil the festivities, while floods preoccupied residents of some British Columbia and Prairie communities.

Full days of sport, picnics and fishing trips were the rule. At Toronto nearly 50,000 yesterday watched Jim Fair's Last Mark win the 89th running of the King's Plate, historic $10,000 added race with Hits Purse of 50 guineas donated by the King.

Rain cancelled sport events at Halifax and forced the gala opening of the new Victoria general hospital there to take place indoors. But at Saint John beautiful weather allowed a full sport program.

RAIN MARS ACTIVITIES

Intermittent rain also cut down activities in Quebec where May 24 isn't a provincial legal holiday.

The House of Commons was unusually quiet at Ottawa as many members were kept from their desks by the holiday.

Baseball drew spectators at Montreal, where 18,000 turned out for an International League doubleheader.

Thousands flocked to Toronto's beaches as the biggest crowds of the year basked in the sunlight.

Schools throughout Winnipeg held services to mark Empire Day. The warm weather sent an estimated 20,000 out of town to various beaches, many on rail-way holiday specials. A crowd of 1,000 saw the Red River Barrel Derby launched at Emerson, Man.

St. Boniface honored the name of Adam Dollard Des Ormeaux who saved New France from the Iroquois Indians in the 17th century.

PRAIRIE HOLIDAYERS

Warm weather brought out crowds of holidayers across the prairies. A sudden shower drenched the crowd of 9,000 as it left Calgary's Victoria Park race track after Malinka won the $800 Victoria Day Handicap, but sunny weather prevailed most of the day.

Edmonton's premier sports event was the annual Model T racing meet at the exhibition grounds, with other district parks also opening the summer season.

MOSQUITOES OUT TOO

Mosquitoes as well as sportsmen were out in force in Saskatchewan as many smaller towns had sports day with local track meets. There was Model T and harness racing in Regina.

The week-end was marred at Saskatoon by the death of Johnny Falowsky, 12, and Marvin Schindel, 9, who were drowned while swimming on Saturday. Seventeen-year-old Alma Schindel of Sutherland, Sask., died in an automobile accident.

The first holiday crowds of the year lined Vancouver beaches as the swimming season officially opened. Week-end traffic to nearby resorts was the heaviest since 1939. Boat and paddleboard concessionaries at Stanley Park and the beaches did brisk opening day trade.

May Queens were selected in celebrations at Vancouver and many other British Columbia points.

Senator J. H. King lost a chance to receive the freedom of the city in Cranbrook, B.C., when floods stalled his train in Alberta, but residents carried on with their celebration of the city's Golden Jubilee.

Actor Dies

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—John Kirk, 86, veteran actor who created the role of the judge in the long-run Broadway hit "Harvey," died Sunday. He suffered a heart attack ,Thursday.

NOT A "BOMB" BUT THE JUDGE WAS DISCREET

HAMSTERLEY, Durham, England, May 25.—(Reuters) — J. E. Hodgin, a local magistrate, received a suspicious parcel today.

The address was misspelt, the postmark indecipherable, the parcel not expected and there was, in addition, a curious smell.

Bearing in mind the recent delivery of parcel bombs to several people in Britain, Hodgin immediately sent for police.

But Sgt. J. Kidd, a Scotsman, sniffed and sniffed again. He thought he detected a familiar aroma.

The parcel was opened and found to contain a haggis from Dundee.

Motorcade Trip To Nelson Delayed

REGINA, May 25. — (CP)—The "On to Nelson" motorcade pulled into Regina last night only to learn the trip from Brandon, Man., to Nelson, B.C., had been postponed two weeks because of washouts in British Columbia.

Alex Aitken, commissioner of the Regina Chamber of Commerce, told the travellers the decision at a dinner meeting here after cars from Brandon, Virden, Man., and Indian Head, Sask., were paraded through the city with a band. The motorcade now is scheduled to arrive at Nelson June 11.

Members making yesterday's trip reported rough roads and "terrible dust" between here and Brandon. They arrived only a few minutes late after a 10-hour drive from Brandon.

No One to Bail Embassy Aide

OTTAWA, May 25.—(CP)—Police last night said no one had ventured to pay the $5,000 cash bail required to release Enrique Ledesma, 26-year-old Argentine embassy clerk, in county jail since Friday.

He will appear Tuesday in magistrate's court on a charge of illegal possession of offensive fire arms. A police raid disclosed an unregistered .38 revolver in his hotel room. A German sub-machine gun was found wrapped in brown paper in the trunk of his car.

Crown Attorney Raoul Mercier, KC, said that the maximum sentence that can be imposed on the charge is five years.

SERIOUS CHARGE

Ledesma appeared for a hearing before Magistrate Austin O'Connor Saturday. Through an interpreter, he requested adjournment in order that he might obtain counsel.

In setting bail Magistrate O'Connor said the charge was extremely serious and bail should be set as high as possible. Crown attorney Mercier suggested $5,000 was a little too extreme.

"This accused is an alien," replied Magistrate O'Connor, "and unless bail is very high he may leave the country before his trial."

"He must have had this light machine gun for a specific purpose. It may be a treasonable one, for all we know."

Accidentally Shot

ST. BONIFACE, Man., May 25.—(CP)—Four-year-old Rene Couture died in hospital today after being accidentally shot in the abdomen Sunday night.

Seven Calgarians Hurt In Crash

CALGARY, May 25. — (CP) — Seven Calgary residents are in hospital here following a head-on collision between two automobiles eight miles west of Calgary on the Banff highway last night. None are believed in serious condition. The accident occurred during a heavy rainstorm.

Injured are Miss Shirley M. Dennison, George Allison, Mrs. George Allison, Sgt. Ed. White, Mrs. O. R. Metcalfe, Manuel Dabrowski, and Stanley Baluch.

Tax Reduction Demands Heard

Three Political Parties Condemn Govt. Policies

OTTAWA, May 25.—(CP)—A three-party demand for reduction in taxation to help meet the rising cost of living was heard in the Commons Monday night as the budget debate moved under way.

Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton), John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge) and Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) joined in criticizing Finance Minister Abbott for his failure to distribute some of his $629,000,000 budget surplus among Canada's 12,000,000 population by way of tax relief.

Mr. Fleming termed the budget a "shockingly harsh imposition" on the Canadian people and said its oversized surplus demonstrated nothing more than inaccurate budgetting. It meant merely that the government was dipping too deeply into the pockets of the taxpayers.

Mr. Thatcher said it was one thing to skim off surplus earnings to reduce debt and another to "impoverish" the people. Ladies said the eight per cent sales tax contributed directly to the high cost of living.

Mr. Blackmore termed the budget one of precaution, secrecy and frustration and said there would be no changes in budgets until the government finally abandoned its "ox-cart" financial system.

J. E. Matthews (L—Brandon) defended the government's financing policies and said it was a great achievement to wipe out

$1,000,000,000 of national debt in two years. This step would reduce interest on the debt by $30,000,000 a year.

J. L. Gibson (Ind—Comox-Alberni) called for federal aid to the provinces for highway, school and hospital construction.

Declaring the Dominion's failure to control inflation resulted in higher provincial costs Mr. Gibson suggested the provinces be compensated through the use of some of the $650,000,000 federal surplus for 1947-48.

SUGGESTIONS MADE

He proposed:

1. Creation of a federal highway commission to designate highways to be considered links in the Trans Canada system.

2. Cash payment to the provinces for 25-per cent of the capital and one-quarter cost they have spent on those highways in the last 10 years.

3. A similar 25-per-cent contribution to the cost of new highways in the system, to be increased to 50-per-cent of capital cost where work is undertaken at the instance of the federal government to absorb surplus labor and material.

EASY LOANS

4. Easy loans to the provinces for schools and hospitals. Mr. Gibson proposed an interest rate of 2¾-per-cent, with interest only to be charged for the first 10 years, following which amortization would be spread over 40 years.

5. An agreement with the provinces guaranteeing them a minimum return of 20-per-cent of corporate and income tax collections in each province.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Here are the names that are starring the Hollywood news today:

Mickey Rooney is getting choosey about his screen roles and doesn't think he'll do the Tod Sloan biography, "Monkey on a Stick." Says the defiant Mickey: "They thought I was finished after I came back from the [illegible] But I fooled 'em with 'Killer McCoy.' I'm not washed up; I'm just getting started."

Mickey Rooney

David Niven is baffled by the talk of a film career for his bride, the beauteous Hjordis Tersmeden of Sweden. "She has never acted and never intends to act," says David. Besides, how would her name look on a marquee?

Robert Taylor finally is getting back to what gave him his first screen fame—romance. He'll have some torrid love scenes with Ava Gardner in "The Bribe." She'll be wearing a white bathing suit.

HAVE A SHORT ONE

Newlyweds Cyd Charisse and Tony Martin fly to the Indianapolis races, thence onward to New York and Europe . . . The Humphrey had crashed Bogart's quietly celebrated third wedding anniversary . . . Popular Wanda Hendrix is being paged for the Mexican girl in "Serenade."

10-SECOND REVIEW

"Melody Time" is another joyous package from the Disney wonderworks. This cartoon variety sheetops in beauty and imagination most of Walt's previous features. With vocals by Frances Langford, Dennis Day, Andrews Sisters and others, it describes such fine characters as a puckish tug boat, Johnny Appleseed and Bumble Boogie. Best is Pecos Bill (sung by Roy Rogers), which should make Disney an honorary Texan.

In Memoriam

IN Loving Memory of our husband and father, Lorne Smith, who passed away May 25th, 1947.
His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
—Ever remembered by his loving wife and daughter, Irene.

IN Loving Memory of Lorne Smith, who passed away May 25th, 1947.
He had a nature you could not help loving
And a heart that was purer than gold;
And to those who knew him and loved him,
His memory will never grow cold.
—Always remembered by Adair, Margaret and family.

A deposit of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars will be required for each copy of the Contract and Specifications taken.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

G. H. N. Monkman,
DEPUTY MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS

NOTICE
To Creditors and Claimants

In the Estate of THOMAS CARLYLE, Late of the City of Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, B. & B. Foreman C.N.R., Deceased.

NOTICE is hereby given that all persons having claims upon the estate of the above named THOMAS CARLYLE, who died on the 26th day of March, A.D. 1948, are required to file with the undersigned Administrator by the 26th day of June, A.D. 1948, a full statement duly verified of their claims and of any securities held by them, and that after that date the Administrator will distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice has been so filed or which have been brought to his knowledge.

DATED this 19th day of May, 1948.

G. M. COLBAN,
Acting Public Administrator, Administrator of the Estate of Thomas Carlyle, Deceased, Provincial Building, Edmonton, Alberta.

OIL

Leduc Average Drops 1,700

Shut-down of Leduc oil field caused a drop in Alberta's oil production during the week ended May 17 according to figures released by the Oil and Natural Gas Conservation Board. Production during the week averaged 20,412 barrels daily compared with 22,215 barrels during the week ended May 10. Leduc production dropped from 5,965 barrels to 4,292 barrels daily.

The order closing all wells in the field was effective May 13 although for some days previous to that date pipe-line facilities from the field had been devoted entirely to the task of clearing oil from the Atlantic lease. Four more wells were placed on production prior to the shut-down to raise the total of Leduc producers from 57 to 61.

Anglo - Canadian - Home - Calgary and Edmonton Ste. Anne wildcat on the Alexis Indian reserve has announced that it topped the Devonian at 4,905 feet. After making allowance for difference in Kelly bushing elevations this depth is still several hundred feet lower than average contact in the Leduc field.

Reports from Fedorah indicate that that hole has found nothing of interest down to 5,880 feet and is due for abandonment. Volmer was last reported drilling at 5,424 feet. Clyde was drilling at 3,798 feet.

MUSKEG AT 9,200

Two of the most expensive oil searches in the province were reaching a slimax in the Madison formation. The most northerly of these ventures is the Muskeg hole currently drilling below 9,200 feet in the foothills north of Entrance.

Hope of the five major companies backing this million dollar enterprise is that the Madison formation, responsible for Turner Valley production will be found at Muskeg, near the depth of 10,000 feet. This formation of Mississippian age overlies the Devonian structures in the southern foothills. If it extends as far north as the Jasper area it will open up a huge new oil field for exploration.

The other driller with a Madison objective is the Pincher Creek venture that found wet gas with distillate in the first porous zone of the Madison and is searching for a second. It is coring below 12,100 feet.

PREPARE TO FLOOD

Reports from Atlantic No. 3 indicate that a start may be made with the efforts to flood the well with water from Imperial No. 48 on Tuesday afternoon. Installation of the water pumping equipment was being made on Tuesday morning.

One of the difficulties likely to be encountered in a drilling program in the Peace River area is the water shortage. Oil well drilling requires a lot of water and parts of the Grande Prairie and Spirit River country are devoid of the fluid except for surface water and salt water at a great depth. In fact the greatest search ever conducted in that country was for water some years ago.

Rye Prices Retreat With Lack of Demand

WINNIPEG, May 25. — (CP) — Moderate shipper demand today in the May contracts caused oats and barley prices to rally from earlier hesitation in trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Trading in all futures was generally inactive. May rye declined the two-cent maximum, with very little support. July rye dropped nine and one-half cents, while October scored a firmer close at one-quarter higher.

In the only export business reported today, 160,000 bushels of wheat were allocated to the United Kingdom under the Canadian wheat agreement.

Class two wheat prices remained unchanged from Saturday.

Western Oils Ease In Active Trading

Losses Outnumber Advances, With Industrials Included

TORONTO, May 25.—(CP)—Prices today were down in moderately active trading as losses outnumbered gains in almost all groups on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Industrials eased considerably with base metals dropping along with the golds. Western oils were a little easier in key issues although several edged ahead. Volume was about 1,230,000 shares.

Leading base metals showed good gains in early trading but were down in the afternoon. Eureka, East Sullivan, Falconbridge, International Nickel and International Uranium were among the losers. Pend Oreille, Osisko and Normetal were ahead.

Junior gold issues followed the seniors as prices dropped and trading lagged.

Gains and losses were about equal in the western oils. Selected isues showed gains ranging from 3 to 15 cents as heavy trading kept the group steady. Calgary and Edmonton, Okalta and Roxana were down while Anglo-Canadian, Foothills and Texas Canadian showed good gains.

LEADING STOCKS OFF IN IRREGULAR MARKET

NE WYORK, May 25.—(AP)—Many leading stocks backed away in another irregular market today.

Even the favorable response by automobile shares to the General Motors wage settlement failed to stem the decline.

While tital transactions expanded to around 1,800,000 shares no urgent liquidation appeared, and lisses generally were limited to a piint or less.

Profit-taking around mid-day was fairly well absorbed except in tht rails and oils, and selected industrials rebounded in later dealings.

Canadian issues were liwer. McIntyre continued its decline with a drip of ⅝. Canadian Pacific was down ½. Distillers Seagrams lost ⅝. Dome Mines eased ⅛. Hiram Walker recovered Monday's loss of ⅛.

C & E CLIMBS 20 CENTS ON MONTREAL MARKET

MONTREAL, May 25.—(CP)—Trends today continued easier among selected industrials during moderately active trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market. Mines were slightly off in active marketing.

Papers were improved. In oils, International Petroleum moved up with Calgary and Edmonton ahead 20 cents.

Noranda slipped one point in metals while Nickel lost ¾ and Aluminum ¼. Consolidated Smelters and Hudson Bay Mining were both ¼ better.

Sherritt-Gordon dropped 10 cents in mines, East Sullivan nine O'Brien five, Quebec Labrador 2½ Lingman Lake two, Base Metals ½ and Quemont, Quebec Yellowknife and Beaulieu ½ cent each.

CENTRAL, EAST LEDUC BOTH HEAVY TRADERS

CALGARY, May 25.—(CP)—Prices were firm, but trading was relatively dull on today's oilstock market. A total of 165,516 shares changed hands. Most active stocks were Central Leduc and East Leduc.

High, low, close and sales of some of the leaders: Anglo-Canadian 3.25, 3.20, 3.20, 1,200; British Dominion 33½, 32, 32 8,525; Cenrtal Leduc 38, 37, 37½, 16,300; East Leduc 50, 48, 48, 16,450; Globe 80, 78, 79, 9,150; Pacific Petroleum 1.28, 1.24, 1.26, 3,790; Princess 13½, 12½, 12½, 12,000; Hargal 10, 9½, 10, 10,000; Freehold 4½, 4, 4½, 7,550.

Labor Trouble Production Threat

CLEVELAND, May 25.—(AP)—The mazagine Steel saw "mounting labor trouble in industry" today posing a serious threat to the present high level of steel production in the United States.

The possibility of settling a dispute in the coal industry, it said, "now appears more remote than ever," with trouble brewing in automotive plants.

"The third-round wage drive," said Steel, "which was stalled several weeks ago in the basic steel industry, is being pushed with rising fervor in those industries not holding no-strike agreements on wages.

"There seems little doubt outcome of the Chrysler dispute will hold great significance not only for other automotive interests but general metalworking lines as well."

The magazine said if the union's efforts at Chrysler are successful strikes and wage demands would spread on a wide scale. If they fail, it declared, "much of the enthusiasm being whipped up in labor circles for another general pay boost" would be discouraged.

Steel output last week rose a half point to 95 per cent of capacity, said Steel.

Chicago Grain Shows Gains

CHICAGO, May 25.—(AP)—Grain futures made modest gains at times in today's Board of Trade session. Wheat showed some strength on light mill buying, said to reflect sales of flour for export. There was some buying attributed to commission houses against sales of cash wheat to the government.

Corn advanced on light country bookings, the cash dealers placing the to-arrive purchases at 4,000 bushels against sales of 20,000 bushels.

Oats were inclined to be heavy toward the close.

At the finish wheat was ¼ higher to ½ lower than Monday's close. Corn was unchanged to 1¼ higher. Oats were ⅛ higher to lower.

Cash wheat: No. 4 red wheat, 2.37½; corn, No. 1 yellow, 2.33-33; oats, No. 1 heavy mixed, 1.16.

Wheat — July 2.34-34¼, Sept. 2.32½-⅝, Dec. 2.32½-¾. May 2.31½.

Corn—July 2.13⅛-13, Sept. 1.89⅞-90, Dec. 1.65⅞-66⅛, May 1.66¼.

Oats—July 90½-⅝, Sept. 84⅛ Dec. 84¾.

London Stocks

LONDON, May 25.—(Reuters)—Anglo-American differences over the Palestine situation made for hesitancy on London Stock Exchange today.

Small selling of British government securities resulted in losses of ⅛. Industrials again followed the government issues and losses of a few pence were widespread; tobacco and building shares were particularly affected.

South African gold mines registered small gains when Johannesburg sent buying orders. Trading in these stocks was small, awaiting the outcome of the South African elections tomorrow.

More Than $83,000 Collected for Blind

More than $82,000 was collected during the recent drive for a service centre for Northern Alberta blind, according to reports at the annual meeting of the Northern Alberta Branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind here recently.

Tenders for the construction of the centre have been called and it is expected that an announcement regarding the awarding of the contract will be made shortly.

The building is to be erected at 120 street and Jasper avenue at an estimated cost of $150,000.

A registration of 459 blind persons in Northern Alberta was reported, an increase of 12 during the past year. Forty-four new cases of blindness were reported and 32 cases were closed as a result of sight improvement or blind persons leaving the province.

Fifty-eight blind persons received full and part time employment during the year and received earnings totalling $40,000, a substantial increase in earnings of the blind over previous years.

EMPLOYMENT EFFORTS TOLD

Employment service of the CNIB reported that a placement officer made 183 calls in Northern Alberta in an effort to locate employment in industry for blind persons.

Nineteen cases of preventive treatment against blindness were assisted by the CNIB during the year. In each case the assistance took the form of arranging appointments with eye specialists, transporting persons to Edmonton for care, or the provision of suitable glasses.

Many more cases were handled which did not meet the requirements for registry.

One of the outstanding events of the year for the blind was passing of the Blind Workmen's Compensation Act by the provincial government at its last session. By accepting the onus for payment of compensation to blind persons, the provincial government improved prospects for employment of blind persons in industry.

WEBER ELECTED PRESIDENT

J. A. Weber was elected president of the Northern Alberta Board of the CNIB. H. H. Cooper was elected honorary president, A. F. Swan, honorary secretary, and J. W. McDiarmid, honorary treasurer. Mrs. W. D. Spence is vice-chairman.

A vote of thanks was extended to all persons and organizations rendering assistance to the blind during the past year.

POLIO CASE REPORTED IN HIGH PRAIRIE

Report of a poliomyelitis case at High Prairie last week brought to nine the total number of victims of the disease in Alberta since January 1.

The report was received at the office of Dr. A. Somerville, provincial director of communicable disease. It concerns a 17-year-old boy, who is still in quarantine at High Prairie.

General Motors Gives Workers 11 Cent Boost

By Roy J. Forrest

DETROIT, May 25.—(BUP)—General Motors Corporation today shattered big industry's front against shortround wage increases by granting its 225,000 auto workers a flat 11-cent hourly raise and promising further hikes if the cost of living continues to rise.

A spokesman for the CIO United Electrical Workers Union, which represents 40,000 GM electrical division workers, said the company has made the same offer to the UEW.

The company and the CIO United Auto Workers signed a two-year contract, subject to reopening by the UAW-GM membership.

Its terms may provide a formula for settlement of third-round wage disputes in the automotive and other key industries.

The GM-UAW pact, achieved after 20 hours of negotiations, averted a strike scheduled Friday by General Motors workers in 90 plants across the country.

It also may mean an early end to a 14-day-old strike of 73,000 Chrysler Corporation workers seeking a new round of wage boosts.

FURTHER INCREASE

Harry W. Anderson, GM vice-president in charge of labor relations, said the company also had agreed to grant its UAW members a further three-cent wage increase in another year.

The UAW-GM contract goes into effect May 28 and expires May 28, 1950.

Union leaders immediately hailed the agreement as a "stag gering defeat" for management which had lined up against the new round of pay hikes.

Anderson said the "whole settlement was a result of an idea advanced by the corporation — especially the cost-of-living raise program."

The GM executive said the corporation also agreed to raise wages one cent per hour in the future for each change of 1.14 in the cost of living index of the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics.

It was explained that the index, based on 100.2 for 1940, stood at 169.3 in April of this year.

If the index rises to 175, the GM worker will receive an additional 10 cents besides the immediate flat 11-cent hike, Anderson said.

City Land Sales Net $15,766

Five land sales totalling $15,766 were completed Friday by the city land department.

Resulting from the sales an electrical shop and 49 houses will be erected.

The home building projects will total an estimated $370,000.

Waxyl Dorosh, 12302 82 street purchased a lot on the north side of 111 avenue, east of 93 street, on which he will erect a $4,000 electric shop.

Floyd A. Johnson and Harold R. Dieconson, 21 Richardson building, purchased five lots between 128 and 139 streets north of Stony Plain road for $1,923 on which they will erect five homes each costing $15,000.

They also purchased 15 lots between 139 and 140 streets and 104 and 105 avenues on which 15 houses will be built at an estimated cost of $112,500. Purchase price was $4,773.

William Kruger, 10302 137 street, purchased 17 lots between 137 and 138 streets and 103 and 104 avenues for $5,890 on which he will erect 17 homes each costing $7,500.

Mack Construction Co., 10438 82 avenue, purchased 12 lots on south side of 80 avenue between 91 and 92 streets. Homes will be erected on each lot at an average cost of $7,000.

Sask. Legion Head Retires From Office

SASKATOON, May 25.—(CP)—Lt.-Col. Alan W. Embury of Regina announced last night he is retiring as Saskatchewan president of the Canadian Legion to avoid any chances of embroiling the Legion in his political fight against the CCF government.

Racing Breaks Folks Don't See

Many Incidents That Mar Drivers' Chance of Victory

Every race, from horse to automobile, has its little sidelights which most people don't hear about.

It was the same with Monday's Lions Club Model T races, held at the Edmonton exhibition grounds.

Here are some of the quirks of human nature and more colorful incidents which The Bulletin found connected with Monday afternoon's jalopy races.

Probably the toughest break of the day was taken by Len Jeffery, driving No. 17, the Sunland Biscuit car. Jeffery has never raced in any but the Sunland auto, and has entered the Model T raced for the past four years. He had never done better than second in any race, but Monday, with his car in tip-top shape, he won his first race handily. Later, in the grand championship race for the Hudson's Bay Co. cup, he and winner Tommy Villetard were running hub to hub and his chances looked good —that is, they looked good until his car burst into flames and he was forced to withdraw.

☆ ☆ ☆

Jeffery's car was the second to blaze out of running in Monday's racing. Bill Dowler, of Red Deer, had his Cardinal Coach Lines auto catch fire in the second race.

☆ ☆ ☆

Close second in tough breaks was Tommy Fraser, of Standard, Alberta. His car was sponsored by Reliable Printing Co. Ltd.

Fraser shipped his auto, No. 15, to Edmonton from Standard last Tuesday.

When he arrived in town over the weekend, he discovered that somehow the freight car in which his racer had been shipped had been put on a railway siding at Red Deer.

Determined to race or else, he flew by chartered plane to Red Deer Monday morning, got his car, and drove it to Edmonton, in time for the afternoon races.

☆ ☆ ☆

Fraser won $100 first prize money in the fourth race.

But it wasn't without trouble.

He had jumped the starting signal at the beginning of the race, and consequently the race was stopped for a new start.

Then someone noticed that he had a flat tire—so the race was delayed until he changed tires. Without the change it's quite likely that he wouldn't have won that $100.

☆ ☆ ☆

He wasn't quite so fortunate in the grand championship race, though.

Just before that one, his carburetor "went" on him, resulting in unregulated gas supply to his engine. He went ahead to race, however, determined at least to put up a fight. Fans cheered his efforts, although he ran well back in the field.

☆ ☆ ☆

Another driver from Standard showed the same kind of pluck, Gordon Rasmussen, who drove the United Builders entry.

In the third race, Rasmussen's left rear tire went about the 10th lap.

That didn't stop him—he kept right on driving until the ailing jalopy gave its all and he was forced to pull out of the race.

☆ ☆ ☆

The 10,000 fans attending the Lions Club races didn't know it, but there was a mystery driver among the entries.

Among the 23 racing drivers there was one who was entered under another name.

The reason: He didn't want his wife to know that he was risking his neck on an auto race track.

There was a lost elephant who was supposed to attend the races Monday.

The missing pachyderm, belonging to the Shrine Circus which is coming to Edmonton this week, was supposed to arrive in time for between-race entertainment. So far no one knows where the big creature has disappeared.

* * *

One Calgarian's face was really red Monday—Bob Jordison, driver of the Calgary Modern Motors entry. Just before the third race, it turned out he and his mechanics had forgotten to fill his tank with gas. Result: Delayed race. Jordison told The Bulletin he is the "oldest racing driver in Alberta." He said that he's never forgotten about his gas before.

* * *

Perhaps some of you fans who attended the races wonder what speed the "jalopys" hit when they thunder around the track.

Unofficial stop-watch figures clocked some of the cars at 60 miles per hour. That means they circled the half-mile track in just 30 seconds.

* * *

Incidentally, Stan Reynolds, of Wetaskiwin, driving Derry's Ltd. Jewellers car in the last race, was hitting the same pace as the two lead cars, winner Tommy Villetard and Con Heighington in second place. They all travelled the oval track in 37 seconds during the last half of the race.

Unfortunately the plucky "Reynolds had had a bad case of motor trouble. He might have won had he had better luck.

CASEY BACK FROM SOUTH

Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, was in Calgary last week-end attending the annual convention of the Alberta Industrial Arts Teachers.

Mr. Casey also attended the graduating exercises of the Alberta Institute of Technology and Art on Friday and presented diplomas to graduates from the arts section of the school.

Judge Hears Nine Appeals

Nine appeals against the size of school district appropriations from municipalities were heard by J. W. Judge, deputy minister of municipal affairs last week.

Mr. Judge was acting as a commissioner under provisions of the School Taxation Act as amended at the 1948 session of the Alberta legislature which permits municipalities to appeal the size of school district appropriations if they appear excessive and are more than 20 per cent above the previous year's requirements.

Mr. Judge visited Halkirk, Delburne, Strathmore, Nanton, Taber, Cardston, Pincher Creek, Blue Diamond and Brooks, last week.

In some cases he sustained the school boards, in others he found the appeal of the municipalities well-founded, but in most of the appeals he reserved judgment.

On his return to his office on Tuesday he found eight more applications awaiting his attention.

Hayward Heads City Kinsmen

Vernon Hayward is the newly-elected president of the Edmonton Kinsmen Club. He received an acclamation at recent club elections.

Mr. Hayward, general manager of Hayward Lumber Company, has been a resident of the city for about 35 years and has been a member of the Club since 1938.

He succeeds Dr. George Decker as president.

Other officers elected were C. R. Cummings, secretary; George MacArthur, treasurer; Donald McLaughlin, editor; and Murray Cooke, Norman MacPherson, Oscar Purin, and Gordon Watts, directors.

Judge Grants 10 Divorces

Ten decrees absolute of divorce were granted in supreme court today by Mr. Justice H. H. Parlee.

The decrees were granted to: Marguerite Carle from Edward Carle; John Unger from Nina May Unger; Richard V. Dumphy from Lillian W. Dumphy; Frederick Blumhagen from Dorothy Blumhagen; Lillian G. Stone from David G. Stone.

Jessie A. McCadden from Charles McCadden: Thomas A. McL. Bradley from Frances E. Bradley; Benjamin B. Wood from Eveline Wood; Marguerite E. Butler from Lawrence H. Butler, and Helen A. Attwood from Thomas J. Attwood.

BOND MARKET

MONTREAL, May 25. — (CP) — Dominions, provincials, municipals and corporations were unchanged in dull trading on the bond market today with only Nova Scotia 3¼'s of '62 fractionally ahead.

Bank of Montreal Planning Expansion

Plans for an extension to the main branch of the Bank of Montreal in Edmonton, to be completed this year, are being prepared, according to Gordon R. Ball, of Montreal, general manager of the bank.

VISITING FINANCIER, Gordon R. Ball, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, will spend three days in Edmonton before his departure for Calgary Thursday night. He is at present on a tour of Western branches and came here from Vancouver.

Details of the extension are still being worked out. Mr. Ball said in an interview today. However it will occupy the rear portion of the bank's present premises on the southeast corner of 101 street and Jasper avenue.

The extension is to be of one-story construction with a mezzanine floor and will extend for 50 feet along 101 street and 80 feet along the rear lane.

Complete renovation of the present banking quarters is also planned. This will include air conditioning, modern lighting, new furnishings and safety features.

With present mounting construction costs, Mr. Ball said, plans were not sufficiently advanced to say that cost of the extension would be other than "substantial."

Entire floor space of the bank, the extension and the mezzanine floor are to be used for bank purposes.

Canada has turned the corner so far as the dollar shortage is concerned, Mr. Ball said. The Abbott austerity plan should further increase Canada's supply of U.S. dollars.

Under the plan Canada is to supply $1,300,000 worth of goods to aid in the recovery of Europe. This is to be paid for in United States dollars.

In our participation in the ERP program, Mr. Ball said he believed we would have to take a much more realistic view of costs when supplying goods under the Plan was the case under the war exigencies.

All sections of the Dominion will participate in supplies the needs of the program, he said, and if we can dispose of our full quota of products we will have gone a long way in ensuring ourselves of a strong place in world markets.

Expressing high reward for Alberta's potential resources. Mr. Ball said he planned to spend three days here visiting the oil wells and other development in the area.

Thieves Make Big Haul Of Cigarettes

CALGARY, May 25.—(CP)—About $3,375 worth of cigarettes and candy was stolen from the Aspden wholesale company premises on 3rd avenue in East Calgary Sunday night, Police said a truck was used to cart the loot away.

Lawbreakers Draw Fines

Fines totalling $1:5 were levied in police court today against six offenders under the Liquor Act.

Four were fined $95 and costs for being drunk and two others were fined a total of $40 and costs.

George Hodgson, no fixed address, was given a sentence of four months at Fort Saskatchewan.

One young lad from High Prairie, charged with vagrancy, was told to go home and stay there by Magistrate Simpson.

Raymond A. Coulson, no fixed address, was given three months at the Fort on a vagrancy charge.

Police reports showed that Coulson had not worked in 1948.

Ingratitude Ends In Jail

"You bit the hand that fed you," admonished Magistrate Simpson to a young woman charged with theft in police court today.

Carolina Fiaman, no fixed address, was charged with stealing a coat from a city woman March 25.

According to evidence, she had "borrowed" the coat to go to church on Good Friday.

Miss Flaman was arrested May 24 with the coat in her possession.

For the theft, she was sentenced to one month in jail.

On an additional charge of vagrancy she will serve three months at the Fort.

Tenders Close On Oil Sections

Tenders for the purchase of the oil rights on three quarter-sections in the Woodbend area will close at 4:30 this afternoon.

J. Harvie, deputy minister of lands and mines said today that the competitive factor in the new bids was a cash bonus, over and above the purchase price and no over-riding royalty was being offered.

The lands concerned in this sale are the three sectors offered for sale on competition by royalty over and above the regular government royalty, for which no bids were received.

Tenders will be open to the Hon. C. E. Gerhart, acting minister of lands and mines in the absence of the Hon. N. E. Tanner and announcement of the awards and amount of the successful tender will be made by him on Wednesday.

CCF Meets

Mrs. E. Rogers, president of the Edmonton CCF and A. E. Thornton, will address a public meeting in St. Matthew's Church hall, Riverdale, tonight at 8 p.m. Subject will be "What the CCF Has Done in Saskatchewan."

"I'm Dreadfully Sorry for Him"

"Besides being totally disabled he endures mental agony because when he could get it, he didn't buy insurance with total disability monthly income benefits.

"His plight taught me a lesson. I now have a Confederation Life Policy that guarantees me a monthly income if I become totally disabled. Moreover, I shan't need to pay premiums while totally disabled although the policy will remain in force during my total disability and the full amount of the policy will be paid to my wife should I die."

ADVERSE BALANCE MOUNTING
British Trade Position Vitally Concerns Canada

By The Canadian Press

A disturbing factor in the current economic scene is the report from Britain that her unfavorable trade balance is running at an all-time high.

To compute the significance of this, one must recall that Britain's economy has been based upon importing raw materials at low prices and exporting finished goods at prices which will show a profit. Then the world's goods and used her skill to convert them into consumers' products.

Now her problem is that the price of raw materials has gone up and she can no longer import them even relatively cheaply, and therefore she can't manufacture cheaply for export.

Therein is revealed the problems of such things as the European Recovery Program. They make it possible temporarily for Britain to buy, but the demand they create raises the prices.

ERP is designed for the recovery of all Western Europe, but the key point is Britain. Accordingly, ERP must, if it is not to be a loss, look into the significance of the present position of the British trade balance, as must every country concerned in British recovery—especially Canada.

Britain, because of her accumulated skills, can produce more efficiently than any other country with the probable exceptions of the United States and Canada. Then, if she cannot get goods at a price which will enable her to produce at a profit, it would seem inevitable that the trade world indeed is out of joint, and much that appears hopeful now may be ultimate delusion. It seems doubtful that the problem can be solved without Britain, the United States and Canada getting down to a very careful consideration, preferably now before the hard facts of the situation develop a new crisis.

Canadian stock markets were closed Monday for the May 24 holiday and United States markets revealed little, New York managing to stay nearly even.

Most notable was a break of more than $5 a bale in early dealings in New York cotton futures, but final prices brought them back to 30 cents to $3.15 a bale lower.

In Chicago wheat and corn were lower on weather news favorable to crops. Oats were mixed.
